

INHALT

AUFSÄTZE

George BRODERICK:

Prof. John Rhŷs and his visits to the Isle of Man (1886–1893): Diary 1

Joseph F. ESKA & Charlene M. ESKA:

*Epigraphic and linguistic observations on the inscription
at the so-called Mur d'Hannibal (Liddes, Valais)* 159

Kim McCONE:

*Warriors' blazing heads and eyes, Cú Chulainn and other fiery cyclopes,
'bright' Balar, and the etymology of Old Irish cáech 'one-eyed'* 183

Kim McCONE:

Cú Chulainn's first arming and outing (cét-gabál gaiscid): Roman and Greek parallels for his slaying of three brothers, "woman trouble", and immersions . 201

Erich POPPE:

*How much syntactic complexity could sixteenth-century Welsh cope with?
The case of Maurice Kyffin's Deffynniad Ffydd Eglwys Loegr (1595)* 227

Patrick SIMS-WILLIAMS:

Welsh Yr Eifl: a trace of the Brittonic u-stem dual? 261

BESPRECHUNGEN UND ANZEIGEN

FOMIN, M.: Ludwig Mühlhausen, Séamus Ó Caiside and Scéal Rí na Gréige:

*The tale of "Three golden children" (ATU 707) in 1937 Donegal
(L. Ó LAOIRE)* 271

LÜHR, R. (Hg.): Deutsche Wortfeldetymologie in europäischem Kontext. Bd. 5:

B. IRSLINGER & S. ZEILFELDER: *Wirtschaft
(St. ZIMMER)* 276

MAIER, B.: Grammatikübungsbuch Walisisch

(E. PARINA) 282

MURRAY, K.: The early Fenian corpus

(E. POPPE) 289

PETROVSKAIA, N. (ed.): Delw y Byd. A medieval Welsh encyclopedia

(B. GUY) 292

SIMS-WILLIAMS, P.: The Book of Llandaf as a historical source

(C. BRETT) 296

