

CONTENTS

I. THE PHILOSOPHY OF LITERARY FORM 1

II. LONGER ARTICLES

Semantic and Poetic Meaning	138
The Virtues and Limitations of Debunking	168
The Rhetoric of Hitler's "Battle"	191
The Calling of the Tune	221
War, Response, and Contradiction	234
Freud—and the Analysis of Poetry	258

III. SHORTER ARTICLES

Literature as Equipment for Living	293
Twelve Propositions	305
The Nature of Art under Capitalism	314
Reading While You Run	323
Antony in Behalf of the Play	329
Trial Translation	344
Caldwell: Maker of Grotesques	350
The Negro's Pattern of Life	361
On Musicality in Verse	369

IV. APPENDIX

George Herbert Mead	379
Intelligence as a Good	382
Liberalism's Family Tree	388
Monads—On the Make	392
Quantity and Quality	394
Semantics in Demotic	396
Corrosive Without Corrective	400
The Constants of Social Relativity	404
The Second Study of Middletown	407
A Recipe for Worship	411
Hypergelasticism Exposed	414
Mainsprings of Character	418
Exceptional Improvisation	422
Exceptional Book	424
Permanence and Change	427
By Ice, Fire, or Decay?	429
Fearing's New Poems	433
Growth Among the Ruins	435
Letters to the Editor	438
1. On Psychology	438
2. On Dialectic	443
Dialectician's Hymn	447

INDEXES

Index of Proper Names	451
Index of Topics	456

THE
PHILOSOPHY
OF LITERARY FORM

