

Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	ix
NOTE ON ABBREVIATIONS	xi
INTRODUCTION	I

I. The Early Years (A.D. 365 [?] –395)	17
Early Life and Adolescence	17
Alexandria and Conversion to Philosophy	20
Hymn I and Synesius' Conversion to Philosophy	29
II. Transition (A.D. 395–402):
Return Home and Journey to Constantinople	41
III. The Middle Years (A.D. 402–409):
From Constantinople to the Bishopric	60
IV. The Middle Years: The Trinity and the Hymns	78
V. The Middle Years: The Incarnation and the Hymns	93
VI. The Middle Years: Hellenism, Philosophy, and
Mysticism	125
The Dion and the Cultural Ideal of Synesius	125
Hellenism and the Path to Mystical
Contemplation in the Dion	133
Synesius and the Ideals of the Fathers	137
The On Dreams ; Dualism; Chaldaean Oracles;
Resurrection of the Body	145
VII. On the Eve of the Episcopate (A.D. 410)	155

VIII. The Later Years (A.D. 410–414?):
The Philosopher-Bishop	164
The Homilies	164
The Catastases	168
The Eunomians	171
Synesius as Bishop: Political Implications	174

CONCLUSION	177
BIBLIOGRAPHY	185
INDEX	195