

Contents

PREFACE	xiii
INTRODUCTION	3
THE CASES
1. The Delphic Amphiktyony judges a border dispute between Amphissa and Delphi (c. 338/7?)	37
2. The constitution of the League of Corinth (337)	39
3. Argos arbitrates between Kimolos and Melos at the request of the League of Corinth (337 or later)	43
4. The Ionian League judges a question of religious administration (335 or earlier)	45
5. Officials of Alexander III arbitrate between Philippi and neighbouring Thracian tribes (c. 335 or 330)	47
6. Alexander III calls for a boundary settlement between Aspendos and a neighbour, perhaps Side (early 333)	50
7. Various states request adjudications from Alexander III (323)	51
8. Tarentum demands that Rome and the Samnites mediate their conflict (320 or 314?)	52
9. Akrotatos of Sparta mediates a treaty for Apollonia and Illyria (315)	54
10. Hamilcar of Carthage settles the conflict between Messana and Agathokles of Syracuse (315–313)	55
11. Antigonos I adjudicates the issue of the Lokrian maiden tribute (c. 305?)	57
12. Several states mediate between Rhodes and Demetrios Poliorketes (304)	59
13. Antigonos I synoikises Lebedos and Teos (c. 303)	61

14. The constitution of the Hellenic League of Antigonos and Demetrios (302)	65
15. Kos carries out a boundary arbitration between Klazomenai and Teos (c. 302?)	67
16. The Boiotian League settles the borders of Koroneia and Lebadeia (fourth or third century?)	69
17. The Boiotian League settles the borders of Akraipheia and Kopai (third century)	71
18. An arbitration between Boura and an unknown state (third century)	72
19. Eretria arbitrates between Naxos and another state (?) (third century?)	73
20. Elis arbitrates the borders of Phanoteus and Stiris (third century)	74
21. Knidos arbitrates a loan dispute between Kalymna and Kos (c. 300–286)	75
22. Pausanias of Thessaly judges a border dispute between Amphissa and Delphi (c. 290–280?)	83
23. Thessalian Larisa arbitrates between the Hypoknemidian and Epiknemidian Lokrians (?) (c. 290–280?)	84
24. Lysimachos awards a sacred precinct to Samothrace (288–281)	86
25. Lysimachos settles a conflict between Magnesia (and the “Pediéis”) and Priene (?) (287/6)	87
26. Lysimachos arbitrates between Priene and Samos (283/2)	89
27. Pyrrhos offers to resolve the conflict between Rome and the Italian Greeks (280)	94
28. A judgement between two unknown states by Dorian arbitrators (c. 280?)	96
29. Kleonymos of Sparta oversees a treaty between Phalasarna and Polyrrhenia (before 273)	98
30. Judges from Kassandreia arbitrate the borders of Melitaia, Chalai, and Peuma (c. 270–260?)	99
31. Judges from Kassandreia arbitrate the borders of Pereia, Phylladon, and Peuma (c. 270–260?)	101
32. Pyllos of Macedon arbitrates between Melitaia and Narthakion (c. 270–260 or c. 210–200?)	103
33. The Aitolian and Akarnanian leagues provide for an arbitration between Agrai and Stratos (c. 263–262?)	105
34. Herakleia Pontica offers to resolve the conflict between Byzantion and Istros-Kallatis (253–247)	108
35. Ptolemy II offers to mediate between Carthage and Rome in the First Punic War (252)	109
36. Members of the Achaian League arbitrate between two unknown states (c. 250–200)	110
37. Elis arbitrates between Alipheira and a neighbouring state (?) (244–219)	111

38. The Achaian League requests Megara to arbitrate between Corinth and Epidauros (242/1–238/7)	113
39. Mantinea condemns Aratos and the Achaian League for an attack on Argos (240)	118
40. The Aitolian League arranges an isopolity between Messene and Phigaleia (c. 240)	119
41. Thyrreion arbitrates the boundaries of Matropolis and Oiniadai (239–231)	124
42. A Ptolemaic official arbitrates between Arsinoë (Cilicia) and Nagidos (238–221)	126
43. The Achaian League calls for arbitration between Megalopolis and Orchomenos (after 235)	129
44. The Achaian League (?) calls for arbitration between Argos and Kleonai (c. 229?)	132
45. Border dispute between Megalopolis and Sparta (229–221)	133
46. The Achaian League arranges an arbitration between Arsinoë and Epidauros (after 228)	135
47. An arbitration clause in a treaty between Eleutherna and Antigonos III (c. 224?)	137
48. An arbitration clause in a treaty between Hierapytna and Antigonos III (c. 224?)	138
49. Byzantion tries to mediate between Achaïos and Attalos I (222–220)	139
50. Antigonos III supports Messene in a land dispute with Sparta (c. 222)	140
51. Kavaros the Gaul mediates a peace between Byzantion, Rhodes, and Bithynia (220)	142
52. Several states try to mediate between Antiochos and Ptolemy in the Fourth Syrian War (219/8)	143
53. Several states try to mediate the Social War between Aitolia and Philip V (218–217)	145
54. Officials of Philip V arbitrate between Gonnoi and Herakleion (after 218?)	147
55. The Aitolian League appoints arbitrators for Melitaia and Xyniai (214/3)	151
56. The Aitolian League appoints arbitrators to carry out a sympolity between Melitaia and Pereia (213/2)	153
57. Several states try to mediate the First Macedonian War (209–205)	157
58. Mediation on the island of Crete (end of the third century)	161
59. Rome demands that Philip V arbitrate his disputes with Attalos I and Rhodes (200)	163
60. Rome intervenes between Antiochos III and Ptolemy V (200)	165
61. The Achaian League offers to mediate between Philip V and Rhodes (200)	167
62. An arbitration between Chyretiai and Erikinion (c. 200?)	168

63. Judges from Miletos and Rhodes arbitrate between Hermione and Epidauros (c. 200)	170
64. Karpathos (?) mediates between two unknown states (third or second century)	173
65. Dispute between Angeiai and Ktimenai, arbitrated by Thaumakoi (?) (late third or early second century)	174
66. An Apollonian mediates between Kallatis and an enemy (third or second century?)	176
67. An agreement between Hierapytna and Priansos (early second century)	178
68. A treaty between unknown states, envisioning Sikinos as an arbitrator (?) (first third of the second century)	181
69. An arbitration between Kaphyai and Tegea (?) (second century)	183
70. A territorial arbitration between Kondaia and an unknown state, perhaps Gonnoi (second century)	184
71. Knidos arbitrates between Klazomenai and Temnos (first half of the second century)	186
72. The conference at the Aous between Flamininus and Philip V (198)	192
73. Rome intervenes between Antiochos III and Attalos I (198)	194
74. Rhodes arbitrates a territorial dispute between Priene and Samos (c. 197–190)	196
75. The Achaian League and Athens mediate between the Boiotians and Flamininus (196)	210
76. The Roman settlement of Greece after the Second Macedonian War (196)	211
77. The conference at Lysimacheia between Roman legates and Antiochos III (fall 196)	215
78. Larisa challenges Pteleion to accept Roman arbitration (after 196?)	218
79. A boundary dispute between Melitaia and NARTHAKION settled through the Thessalian League (after 196)	220
80. A Tenian tribunal arbitrates between Zarax and Epidauros Limera (?) (after 195)	221
81. The Lakedaimonian koinon arbitrates between Geronthrai and a neighbour (after 195)	223
82. A boundary arbitration (?) between Alipheira and Lepreion (after 194/3?)	226
83. An Eretrian arbitration between Naxos and Paros (194–166)	228
84. The Aitolians and Rome discuss mediation (192)	230
85. Kassopa and Thyrreion arbitrate between Boiotian Aigosthena and Achaian Pagai (c. 192)	233
86. Flamininus intervenes between the Achaian League and Messene (191)	235
87. Corinthian judges carry out an arbitration for Elis and an unknown state (after 191)	236

88. Rome and the Delphic Amphiktyony (?) settle disputes between Amphissa, Delphi, Myania, and Antikyra (190)	238
89. A sympolity between Hypnia and Myania calling for arbitration (c. 190?)	248
90. Chios settles various disputes between Lampsakos and Parion (c. 190 or shortly after?)	251
91. A Prienian citizen acts as an advocate for Phokaia (?) (c. 190)	252
92. The constitution of the Lesbian League (between c. 190? and 167)	254
93. Herakleia Pontica suggests mediation to Antiochos III and Rome (190)	256
94. Athens and Rhodes intercede with Rome on behalf of Aitolia (190–189)	258
95. Fabius Labeo attempts to reconcile the Cretan states (189)	262
96. Conflict between the Achaian League and Sparta (188)	263
97. The Peace of Apameia (188)	266
98. The Roman settlement of Asia after the Antiochene War (188)	267
99. Manlius Vulso decides the land dispute between Priene and Samos (188)	270
100. Smyrna arbitrates between Miletos and Priene, perhaps at the request of Rome (after 188?)	271
101. Rome settles a boundary dispute between Mylasa and Stratonikeia (after 188)	273
102. Roman intervention between Rhodes and Lycia (188 and later)	275
103. Future boundary arbitration envisioned between Pidasa and a neighbour (?) (188/7?)	278
104. L. Scipio attempts mediation between Antiochos III and Eumenes II (?) (187)	279
105. Megara mediates between Boiotia and the Achaian League (187/6)	280
106. Various states complain of Philip V to Rome (186/5 and later)	281
107. A boundary arbitration between Othorne and Polichne (186/5 or 161/0?)	288
108. Treaty between Herakleia and Miletos providing for arbitration (185/4)	290
109. Rhodes and other states mediate a peace between Magnesia and Miletos (second half of the 180s)	292
110. Appius Claudius mediates between Gortyn and Knossos (184)	297
111. Conflict between the Achaian League and Sparta (184/3)	298
112. Flamininus attempts to mediate between Eumenes II and Prousias I (183)	302
113. Roman representatives intervene between the Achaian League and Messene (183)	304
114. Roman mediation in the war between Eumenes II and Pharnakes (183–180)	305

115.	Boiotian envoys mediate between Messene and the Achaian League (182)	309
116.	The Achaian League settles the territorial holdings of Megalopolis and Messene-Thouria (shortly after 182)	310
117.	Rhodian judges attempt arbitration between Amphissa and Delphi (179)	314
118.	A multistate tribunal arbitrates between Azoros and Mondaia (soon after 178)	318
119.	Rhodian judges regulate the Achaian honours for Eumenes II (c. 175)	319
120.	Mylasa arbitrates between Magnesia and Priene at the request of Rome (c. 175–160)	321
121.	Rhodes, Ptolemy VI, and others attempt mediation in the Third Macedonian War (172–168)	327
122.	Rome, Rhodes, and the Achaian League intervene in the Sixth Syrian War (170–168)	336
123.	Rome attempts to mediate between Eumenes II and the Galatians (167)	341
124.	Rhodes arbitrates between Mylasa and Euromos (167? or first century?)	343
125.	Chalkis arbitrates a land dispute between Erythrai and Hypata (between 167 and 146?)	345
126.	Boundary settlements between Delphi and its neighbours Ambrysos and Phlygonion (between c. 167 and c. 140?)	347
127.	Magnesia offers to mediate between Gortyn and Knossos (before 167?)	350
128.	A Ptolemaic arbitration between Gortyn and Knossos (c. 167)	356
129.	Thebes arbitrates between Boumelita and Halai (after 167?)	359
130.	The Lycian koinon arbitrates a boundary dispute between Araxa and a neighbour (after 167 or later?)	366
131.	Rome asks Korkyra to arbitrate between Ambrakia and Athamania (c. 166?)	367
132.	Athens arbitrates between Akarnania and Ambrakia (?) (166)	369
133.	Skarphai and Thronion dispute the hieromnemonie vote (c. 165–160 and later?)	370
134.	The Roman senate mediates between Eumenes II and Prousius II (164–160)	372
135.	Roman legates arbitrate between Sparta and Megalopolis (163)	374
136.	Roman legates arbitrate between Sparta and Argos (?) (163)	376
137.	An arbitration between the Achaian League and Sparta over Sparta's dispute with Megalopolis (after 163)	377
138.	Officials of Ptolemy VI settle disputes between Arsinoë and Troizen (between 163 and 146)	381
139.	Lamia arbitrates a dispute between Doris and Sparta over the hieromnemonie vote (161/0)	385
140.	Rome supports a Delian-Achaian claim against Athens (159/8)	386

141.	Rome and Sikyon arbitrate between Athens and Oropos (156–155)	387
142.	Rome mediates between Attalos II and Prousius II (156–154)	388
143.	Priene appeals to Rome for intervention with Ariarathes (c. 155/4)	391
144.	Rome settles the Second Cretan War (153)	394
145.	Patrai arbitrates disputes between Megalopolis and Thouria (c. 150)	394
146.	Pergamene judges arbitrate between Mytilene and Pitane (between c. 150 and 133)	396
147.	Conflict between the Achaian League and Sparta (150–147)	405
148.	Rome attempts to mediate between Prousius II and Nikomedes (149)	409
149.	Metellus arbitrates between Thebes and various states (147)	410
150.	Mummius arbitrates between Sparta and Messene (?) (146/5)	411
151.	Rome settles a dispute between Hermione and Troizen (?) (after 146?)	413
152.	Mummius arbitrates between Argos and Kleonai (?) (145)	414
153.	Makon of Larisa arbitrates between Halos and Phthiotic Thebes (between c. 145 and 137)	415
154.	A multistate tribunal from Asia Minor arbitrates between Melitaia and NARTHAKION (c. 143?)	420
155.	Scipio Aemilianus in the East (144/3 or 140/39?)	423
156.	The Roman senate arbitrates between Melitaia and NARTHAKION (c. 140?)	425
157.	A boundary arbitration between two unknown states (c. 140?)	429
158.	Magnesia and Rome settle the disputes of Hierapytna and Itanos (c. 140–111)	431
159.	Miletos arbitrates between Messene and Sparta at the request of Rome (c. 138)	446
160.	The Roman senate upholds the Rhodian judgement between Priene and Samos (shortly before 135 and 135)	450
161.	Bargylia arbitrates a dispute between Rhodes and Stratonikeia (c. 130)	457
162.	Disputes between Kolophon and its neighbours settled by Rome (c. 130–120)	459
163.	Rome and the Amphiktyony settle affairs at Delphi (125?)	461
164.	Lato and Olos turn to Knossos and Rome for arbitration (117/6–111/0)	466
165.	Lytos and Olos conclude a treaty with the help of Athens and Rhodes (?) (111/0)	475
166.	An arbitration over the Euboian Amphiktyonic vote (c. 110)	479
167.	Arbitrations between Skarphai and Thronion over boundaries and the Amphiktyonic vote (c. 110)	482
168.	Arbitration between Megalopolis and a neighbour (?) (c. 105–102?)	490

169.	The senate arbitrates a land dispute between Abdera and Kotys of Thrace (late second/early first century)	493
170.	Ephesos and Sardis conclude an arbitration treaty (98/7 or 94/3)	496
171.	Erythrai and Sardis try to arbitrate between Miletos and Priene (c. 91/0)	503
APPENDIX		511
CONCORDANCE		525
INDICES		533
I.	Literary Passages	535
II.	Epigraphic Sources	539
III.	Names of Persons and Places	547
IV.	Subjects	555
V.	Greek and Latin Terms	559
ABBREVIATIONS		571
SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY		575