

Acknowledgments

It is an honor to have worked with every contributor in this volume. Here I would like to express deepest respect and thanks to each of them for extraordinary efforts on behalf of women's rights.

A warm thank you to Liza Butler, whose expert assistance moved this project along. Thanks to Jennifer Heath, in general. And to Erika Doss, who opened my eyes, as usual. Naomi Schneider, Sue Heine-mann, and Nola Burger at the University of California Press were extremely helpful, thoughtful, and supportive.

Jim Geiser was indispensable in every way as I worked on this book.

