

Illustrations

1. Painting by Hashiguchi Goyō: Keishō no onna (Woman applying makeup), 1918	22
2. A 1924 beauty manual contrasts Japanese- and Western-style makeup	24
3. The cute aesthetic, displayed by porn idol Kogure Chie	25
4. Kogyaru style in 2000	29
5. B-Girl style in 1999	33
6. Aesthetic salon advertisement for bridal esute	45
7. Visual anthropometry: Takano Yuri Beauty Clinic “Cinderella Book” brochure, 1996	47
8. Beauty technology: Esute de Mirōdo aesthetic salon booklet, 1999	48
9. “Oriental” cupping treatment at Slim Beauty House aesthetic salon	62
10. Angel Wing “bust-up” product advertisement	72
11. Chest-flattening kimono undersash (datemaki)	79
12. Sex/breasts for sale: signboard on Tokyo street	81
13. Bust-up treatment at an aesthetic salon	87
14. Medical chart for bust-up treatment from Socie de Esute aesthetic salon	90
15. The breasts positioned correctly: a bust-up product advertisement	95
16. Shrine votive (ema) for ample breast milk at Kigandō	98
17. Face-shaving technique: Matsushita Electric Company catalog, 1997	105

18. Body hair worries in advertisement for hair removal product	107
19. Etiquette Up tablets for beatifying body waste, sold by Takano Yuri Beauty Clinic	111
20. Double-eyelid glue technique, Popteen magazine, 2003	116
21. Kimutaku in Men's TBC aesthetic salon advertisement, 1999	131
22. "Chest hair is gross!": illustration for a magazine poll, 1999	136
23. Making fun of male beauty work	137
24. Meiji-era unisex cosmetics: Bigan Sui (Beautiful Face Water)	139
25. How to get Kimutaku-style hair	140
26. Men's eyebrow beauty work	143
27. The Manicure Diet from Ranking Dai Suki! magazine, 2000	166
28. The dieting journey weight-loss diary	169
29. Naisu (The Nice) hair coloring: example of English in product naming during Meiji era	179
30. The productive use of up in product names	182
31. The pharmaceutical ex product marker: Gold DX Alpha eyelid glue	188
32. "Chinese esute" as a code for sexual services	196
33. Esute tourism to Korea	199