

Acknowledgments

Thanks to our families, friends, and colleagues for their support and patience. We couldn't have done it without you.

Many readers provided valuable assistance by reviewing drafts throughout the evolution of this book. Particular thanks to Nancy Adess, Dan Fletcher, Leslie Harris, Lisa Kloppenberg, Margie Paris, Peggy Pascoe, Ken Pendelton, Jamie Ross, and Merle Weiner for reading and commenting on drafts. The Law Research Interest Group of the University of Oregon's Center for the Study of Women in Society both gave us helpful feedback on a few chapters of the book and an opportunity to "go public" for the first time. The students in Caroline Forell's 1999 Women and the Law seminar read the introductory chapters—the second time to "go public"—and made helpful comments.

Thanks for providing us with contacts go to Mary Forell Davis and Jennifer Freyd. We are also grateful to the people who provided us with prepublication reviews for our cover: Martha Chamallas, Barbara Ehrenreich, Susan Estrich, Alison Jaggar, and Gloria Steinem. We are especially grateful to Barbara Welke for her wonderful foreword. Anna Quindlen and Carol Sanger also provided us with support and ideas for promoting the book.

Nancy Farmer kept the system going with her great administrative support, and lent her eagle eye to proofread the manuscript page proofs. Research assistance was provided by Rebecca Hotchkiss, Ellen Theordorson, Sandy Gorman, Melanie Smith, Meredith Allen, and Tim Bennett, students at the University of Oregon School of Law.

Special thanks to Suzanne Lewis for taking our photograph and for her good humor through the process.

Our editor, Niko Pfund, through his extraordinary e-mail responses, was always instantly available to us. His humor and constant support made a huge difference to our morale and determination to make the most of the opportunity that NYU Press gave us to get our ideas out through our first book.

Finally we acknowledge each other and the wonderful way in which our abilities and interests complemented each other. It was truly a joint effort throughout with none of the strife that can accompany such effort. We both improved as writers and editors through working together. This was collaboration at its best.
