

Acknowledgments

I would like to thank Anita Allen, Derrick Bell, Gregg Bloche, Richard Chused, Richard Delgado, Steven Goldberg, Tom Krattenmaker, Elizabeth Patterson, Gary Peller, Barry Pollack, Mitt Regan, Louis Seidman, and Mark Tushnet for their help in developing the ideas expressed in this book. In addition, I benefitted from the comments of faculty, students, and staff members who participated in the workshop series at Columbia Law School and at the University of Michigan Law School, where I delivered portions of the thesis that is developed herein.

I am extremely grateful to my editor Niko Pfund and to the New York University Press for their help and cooperation in the publication of this book. In addition, the MICHIGAN LAW REVIEW was kind enough to publish portions of the manuscript that ultimately evolved into this book in Pure Politics, 88 MICH. L. REV. 1971 (1990). Support for the book was generously provided by a research grant from the Georgetown University Law Center.
