

Contents

Contributors	vii
Introduction: Towards Education for Multilingualism Agnieszka Otwinowska and Gessica De Angelis	xi
Part 1: Multilingualism in Education: Conceptual Issues and Sociolinguistic Perspectives
1 Problems in Defining the Concepts of L1, L2 and L3 Björn Hammarberg	3
2 Analyzing Linguistic Landscapes. A Diachronic Study of Multilingualism in Poland Hanna Komorowska	19
3 Rethinking Multilingualism: Complex Identities, Representations and Practices of Multilingual Student Teachers Moving through Plurilingual Times in University French Language Teacher Education Programs Julie S. Byrd Clark and Sylvie A. Lamoureux	32
4 Analysing Prospective Teachers' Attitudes towards Three Languages in Two Different Sociolinguistic and Educational Settings Laura Portolés Falomir	50
5 EFL Teacher Trainees and European Goals of Multilingualism and Plurilingualism. A Survey of Attitudes in Poland and Croatia Katarzyna Cybulska and Višnja Kabalin Borenić	75
6 Rethinking Urban Schools – A Sociolinguistic Analysis of Multilingualism in Frankfurt/M, Germany Tatjana Leichsering	98

Part 2: Students and Teachers in the Multilingual Classroom

- 7 The Role of Age on the Development of Written Competence in L4 English: Evidence From a Spanish/German CLIL Context 125
Laura Sanchez
- 8 The Role of External Consultancy in Supporting Multilingual
CLIL Teams and in Shaping School Pedagogical Culture:
The Case of S. Giacomo di Laives/St Jakob Leifers (Italy) 145
Sandra Lucietto
- 9 Discourse on Multilingualism, Language Competence, Use and Attitudes in German–English Bilingual Vocational Schools in Switzerland 167
Claudine Brohy, Philippe A. Genoud and Jean-Luc Gurtner
- 10 Developing Metalinguistic Awareness in L3 German Classrooms 199
Irena Horvatić Čajko
- 11 L3, L1 or L0? Heritage-Language Students as Third-Language Learners 215
Márta Csire and Johanna Laakso
- Epilogue 232
Education for Multilingualism: From Political Discourse to Classroom Applications
Agnieszka Otwinowska and Gessica De Angelis