

Contents

| | |
|---|--------|
| Contributors | vii |
| Acknowledgements | xiii |
| Foreword | xv |
| Series Editors' Preface | xxxiii |
| 1 Introduction | 1 |
| Nadja Tadic and Hansun Zhang Waring | |
| Part 1: Reproducing Inequality and Injustice | |
| 2 Investigating Raciolinguistic Ideologies in Interaction | 27 |
| Nadja Tadic, Hansun Zhang Waring and Elizabeth Reddington | |
| 3 Racist Renditions: Mock Language in Interaction | 49 |
| Elliott M. Hoey and Chase Wesley Raymond | |
| 4 Talk in Local News Broadcasts: Reinforcing Negative Views towards the Hawaiian Language | 71 |
| Scott Saft | |
| 5 Inequality in Action: Granting Emergency Service Requests in a Highly Resource-Constrained Context | 91 |
| Catherine L. Tam, Kevin A. Whitehead and Geoffrey Raymond | |
| 6 Delegitimizing the 'Other' at US Congressional Town Hall Meetings | 115 |
| Di Yu | |
| Part 2: Resisting Inequality and Injustice | |
| 7 Negotiating Power Inequalities in Joint Decision-Making in a Faculty Meeting | 133 |
| Innhwa Park and Santoi Wagner | |

| | | |
|---------------------------------|---|-----|
| 8 | I'm Just Saying: Being Explicit in a Mixed-Race Conversation about Racism Sarah Chepkirui Creider | 155 |
| 9 | Using Racial Incompetence as a Comedic Device and Tacit Method of Anti-Racist Education Lillian Cheeks and Kevin A. Whitehead | 174 |
| Part 3: A Final Argument | | |
| 10 | 'Just a Method in Search of a Problem?' The Power of Conversation Analysis Elizabeth Stokoe and Saul Albert | 197 |
| | Index | 224 |