This book was a tremendous undertaking for us as editors. Four of the five of us work full-time at Dos Puentes Elementary, and this is our first book project. We were joined by 40 Dos Puentes community members and 20 researchers for a total of 65 authors!

We want to thank the teachers and families who shared their experiences and expertise as chapter authors, even when it was something they never imagined doing. We are grateful to the researchers who made it possible for us to connect school practices to the literature in the field via this unique authoring partnership.

We are indebted to Pamela D'Andrea Martínez for her careful reading of this manuscript to ensure the book is consistent and accessible and, while being mostly in English, still connects with the bilingüismo of our school. We are also thankful to Nancy Stern for her critical reading of our introduction chapter.

Finally, we must say gracias to each and every family of the 670 current students and graduates for their confianza and trust with their children, because without them there would be no Dos Puentes.

Con cariño,
Tatyana, Victoria, Alcira, Rebeca and Consuelo
