

List of Figures and Tables

Figures

Figure 1.1	Spatial scales of change	18
Figure 1.2	Elements of a geographical tourism system	20
Figure 2.1	Metaphors of adaptive cycles	48
Figure 2.2	The influence of temporal and spatial resolution on assessing tourism-related phenomenon	50
Figure 2.3	Panarchy: Linked adaptive scales	51
Figure 2.4	Panarchy: Tourism and climate change	52
Figure 2.5	Linked adaptive scales in the tourism system	58
Figure 3.1	Diagrammatic representation of four waves of research on positive adaption in the context of adversity	65
Figure 4.1	Components of organisational resilience	88
Figure 4.2	Equilibrium model of single island biota	99
Figure 4.3	Island biogeographical perspectives on economic endemism, immigration, emigration and extinction	100
Figure 5.1	Representation of a complex tourism system	105
Figure 5.2	Elements in destination resilience	133
Figure 6.1	Progressing resilience in tourism	141
Figure 6.2	Awareness and knowledge of sources of change: Conceptual schema	142

Figure 6.3a Assessing resilience factors: Exposure and vulnerability	143
Figure 6.3b Assessing resilience factors: Hazard and risk change warning system and its relationship to tourism	143
Figure 6.3c Assessing resilience factors: Organisational structures and relationships	144
Figure 6.3d Assessing resilience factors: People	144
Figure 6.3e Assessing resilience factors: Mitigation and adaptation strategies	145
Figure 6.3f Assessing resilience factors: Communications and media	145
Figure 6.3g Assessing resilience factors: Recovery	146
Figure 6.4 Urban hotel design panarchy	156

Tables

Table 1.1 Resource use intensities in global tourism	5
Table 1.2 Important tourism regions facing biodiversity loss, water security threats	12
Table 1.3 The economic and human impact of disasters 2005–2014	14
Table 1.4 Global human impact by disaster types 2005–2014 (annual average)	15
Table 1.5 Top 10 countries most affected by disasters 2005–2014	16
Table 1.6 Properties of complex systems	24
Table 1.7 Basic stability concepts in socio-ecological systems	27
Table 1.8 Types of change in the tourism environment	29
Table 2.1 Use of ‘resilience’ in journal article titles, abstracts or keywords (as of August 2016)	34
Table 2.2 Modifications in the understandings of resilience at different levels of integration	40
Table 2.3 Different foci of engineering versus ecological resilience	42
Table 2.4 Stages of the adaptive cycle	47

Table 2.5 Use of ‘resilience’ and ‘tourism’ in journal article titles, abstracts or keywords (as of August 2016)	54
Table 2.6a Resilience and tourism in journal article titles, abstracts and keywords by key themes and foci as of August 2016	56
Table 2.6b Resilience and tourism in journal article titles, abstracts and keywords by key themes and foci as of August 2016	57
Table 3.1 Four waves of research on positive adaptation in the context of adversity	64
Table 3.2 Fundamental questions related to individual and employee resilience	77
Table 4.1 Fundamental questions related to organisation resilience	102
Table 5.1 Tourism in the resilience plans of the Rockefeller Foundation’s 100 Resilient Cities	119
Table 5.2 Fundamental questions related to destination resilience	133
Table 6.1 Comparisons between resilience and sustainability	150
Table 6.2 Approaches to resilience and change	153

