

Bilingual First Language Acquisition

MM Textbooks bring the subjects covered in our successful range of academic monographs to a student audience. The books in this series explore education and all aspects of language learning and use, as well as other topics of interest to students of these subjects. Written by experts in the field, the books are supervised by a team of world-leading scholars and evaluated by instructors before publication. Each text is student-focused, with suggestions for further reading and study questions leading to a deeper understanding of the subject.

Dedication

This book is dedicated to Professors Hugo Baetens Beardsmore and Eve Clark.

Hugo Baetens Beardsmore's undergraduate 'Sociolinguistics of English' class showed me how interesting linguistics could be. Through his classes, I found out that bilingualism was a scholarly topic. Professor Baetens Beardsmore later became my PhD advisor at the Free University of Brussels. He was also Multilingual Matters' first book author (Bilingualism: Basic Principles, 1982).

Eve Clark was my main teacher during my graduate Fulbright year at Stanford University. Through her many inspiring classes I gained a firm foundation in developmental psycholinguistics. Especially the seminar in research methods that I was lucky enough to be able to follow (it was only offered every other year) taught me many important things that later helped me in the work for my doctoral dissertation and far beyond.

I owe both these teachers a lot. Thank you.
