We are indebted to a number of people: first and foremost, all of our contributors, without whose accomplished multiliteracy and eloquent self-reflections this book would not exist; Steve Fox, for his inspiring work with student literacy autobiographies; Mike Grover and many others at Multilingual Matters, for their enthusiastic support of our project; Alan Hirvela and Andrea Lunsford, for their feedback and encouragement; Iveta Asons, Vera Belcher, and Darlene Oglesby, who helped immensely with the time-consuming task of transcribing; Peter Brandt and Stephen LeBeau for their amiable technical assistance; and last but not least, John Connor and Jim Belcher, whose emotional and intellectual support we have come to count on.
