

Contents

vii Acknowledgements

1 Diane Belcher and Ulla Connor
 Editors' Introduction

Part I: Language Specialists as Language Learners

23 Suresh Canagarajah
 The Fortunate Traveler: Shuttling Between Communities and Literacies by Economy Class

38 Vijay K. Bhatia
 Initiating into Academic Community:
 Some Autobiographical Reflections

51 Nils Erik Enkvist
 Reminiscences of a Multilingual Life:
 A Personal Case History

60 Håkan Ringbom
 Developing Literacy Can and Should Be Fun:
 But Only Sometimes Is

67 Anna Söter
 Straddling Three Worlds

74 Adina Levine
 How a Speaker of Two Second Languages Becomes a Writer in a Foreign Language

79 Andrew D. Cohen
 From L1 to L12: The Confessions of a Sometimes Frustrated
 Multiliterate

96 Ryuko Kubota
 My Experience of Learning to Read and Write in Japanese as L1 and English as L2

- 110 Miyuki Sasaki
An Introspective Account of L2 Writing Acquisition
- 121 Jun Liu
Writing from Chinese to English:
My Cultural Transformation

Part II: Crossing Cultures Across the Disciplines

- 135 Ming-Daw Tsai
Learning is a Lifelong Process
- 141 Louis de Branges
Linguistic Experiences of a Mathematical Career
- 150 Hooshang Hemami and Diane Belcher
Taking the Best from a Number of Worlds:
An Interview with Hooshang Hemami
- 161 Anahid Dervartanian Kulwicki
Growing up Trilingual:
Memories of an Armenian/Arabic/English Speaker
- 165 Robert Agunga and Diane Belcher
How Can I Help Make a Difference?
An Interview with Robert Agunga
- 177 María Juliá and Diane Belcher
A Professional Academic Life in Two Languages:
An Interview with María Juliá
- 191 Luis Proenza and Ulla Connor
On Being a Citizen of the World:
An Interview with Luis Proenza
- 200 Steven Beering and Ulla Connor
The Advantages of Starting Out Multilingual:
An Interview with Steven Beering
- 209 Appendix: Guiding Questions