

Contents

Acknowledgments xiii

Introduction 3

Part I: Literary Targets

I. Poetry 27

Free Verse 29

John Collings Squire

“The Man Who Wrote Free Verse” (London Mercury, June 1924) 31

“If a Very New Poet Had Written ‘The Lotus-Eaters’” (Tricks of the Trade, 1917) 44

“The Poetry of Broken Shackles” (Collected Parodies, 1921) 46

Alfred E. Randall, “Experiment in Free Rhythm” (New Age, 1910) 48

William Kean Seymour, “Thirty-four: A Very New Poet: To Be or Not to Be” (A Jackdaw in Georgia, 1923) 50

F. Scott Fitzgerald, from This Side of Paradise (1920) 52

Bert Leston Taylor, “The Muse Untrammelled” (A Penny Whistle, 1921) 54

Franklin P. Adams, “To a Vers Librist” (Something Else Again, 1920) 56

Prose Poetry 58

John Collings Squire, "The Simple Prose-Poem" (Collected Parodies, 1921) 59

Sue Golden [pseud.], "The Reader Critic. So This Is Art!" (Little Review, January 1917) 60

Louis Untermeyer, "Amy Lowell, Brushing up Her Polyphonic Prose, Declaims Fortitude" (— and Other Poets, 1916) 62

Imagism 64

Harold Massingham, "Recipe for an Imagist Poem" (Form, April 1916) 65

Allen Upward, "Correspondence. The Discarded Imagist" (Egoist, 1915) 66

Horace Holley, "Correspondence. Imagists" (Egoist, 1914) 68

"Imagiste Love Lines" (Columbia Jester, 18 January 1917) 69

C.E. Bechhöfer, "Pastiche" (New Age, 1914) 70

Richard Aldington, "Penultimate Poetry" (Egoist, 1914) 72

Emanuel Morgan [Witter Bynner], "Spectrum. 'Opus 96'" (Little Review, 1917) 75

"Pathology des Dommagistes" (The Chapbook, May 1921) 77

Edgar Lee Masters 82

Henry Savage, from A Long Spoon and the Devil (1922) 83

Samuel Hoffenstein, "Birdie McReynolds" (Year In, You're Out, 1930) 87

William Kean Seymour, "A Spoon River Casualty" (Parrot Pie, 1927) 89

Franklin P. Adams, "The Conning Tower" (Bliss Perry, A Study of Poetry, 1920) 90

The Sitwells 91

Edmund George Valpy Knox, "Spokes: Or an Ode on Ebullitions of Eccentricity ..." (Parodies Regained, 1921) 92

William Kean Seymour, Three Parodies of Edith Sitwell (A Jackdaw in Georgia, 1923) 96

T.S. Eliot 101

William Kean Seymour, "The Love-Song of J. Ernest Odol" (Parrot Pie, 1927) 103

Louis Untermeyer, "Einstein among the Coffee-Cups" (Heavens, 1922) 107

F.R. Scott, "Sweeney Graduates" (McGilliad, April 1930) 108

Herbert Palmer, from Cinder Thursday (1931) 110

Samuel Hoffenstein, "The Moist Land – A Parody of Eliot's Poem" (Year In, You're Out, 1930) 117

Christopher Ward, "The Dry Land" (The Triumph of the Nut, 1923) 125

Ezra Pound 133

Louis Untermeyer, "Ezra Pound" (– and Other Poets, 1916) 134

C.E. Bechhöfer, "More Contemporaries. A Poem of Milton" (New Age, 1914) 136

Edmund George Valpy Knox, "The Rovers" (Parodies Regained, 1921) 137

William Kean Seymour, "Twenty-nine: Mr. Ezra Pound. Boat Race" (A Jackdaw in Georgia, 1923) 141

Bert Leston Taylor, "A Line-o'-Type or Two" (Chicago Daily Tribune, 18 April 1913) 143

W.R., "Contemporomania. From 'A Line-o'-Type or Two'" (Chicago Daily Tribune, 11 April 1913) 144

Others 146

Ford Madox Ford, "Literary Portraits – XXXIX. Mr W. B. Yeats and His New Poems" (Outlook, 6 June 1914) 147

E.E., from "The New England Poets See a Ghost" (New Yorker, 28 March 1925) 149

Hart Crane, "America's Plutonic Ecstasies" and "OF AN EVENING PULLING OFF A LITTLE EXPERIENCE (with the english language)" (Complete Poems of Hart Crane, 2000) 152

Margaret Widdemer, from A Tree with a Bird in It (1922) 155

II. Fiction 159

J.G.T. [James Thurber], "More Authors Cover the Snyder Trial"
(New Yorker, 7 May 1927) 161

K.D., "When Helen Furr Got Gay with Harold Moos" (Vanity Fair,
October 1923) 163

E.B., White, "Is a Train" (New Yorker, 27 October 1934) 166

Stella Gibbons, from Cold Comfort Farm (1932) 168

Dorothy Parker, "Once More Mother Hubbard – As Told by F. Scott
Fitzgerald" (Life, 7 July 1921) 172

Christopher Ward

"The Blind Booby" (Twisted Tales, 1924) 174

"A Loose Lady" (Twisted Tales, 1924) 180

Edmund George Valpy Knox, "Mystery" (Apes and Parrots, 1929) 185

Rose MacAulay, "Week-end at the Hoppers" (Parody Party, 1936) 189

William Kean Seymour, "Peter Gink" (Parrot Pie, 1927) 198

Max Beerbohm, "The Mote in the Middle Distance" (A Christmas Garland, 1912) 201

J.C. Squire, "If Henry James Had Written the Church Catechism"
(Tricks of the Trade, 1917) 206

Susan Miles, "Wednesday or Thursday" (London Mercury, March 1925) 208

Part II: Parodic Modes

I. Verse Commentary 215

Don Marquis

"The Sun Dial: To G. S. and E. P." (New York Evening Sun,
3 October 1914) 216

"The Sun Dial: The Golden Group" (New York Sun, 26 March 1915) 218

Franklin P. Adams, "To the Neo-Pseudoists" (By and Large, 1914) 219

Horace B. Samuel, "Futurist Dress" (New Age, 1914) 220

Bert Leston Taylor, "A Line-o'-Type or Two" (Chicago Daily Tribune, 26 March 1913) 221

II. Manifestos 223

Anne Knish and Emanuel Morgan [Arthur Davison Ficke and Witter Bynner]

"Preface" to Spectra (1916) 225

"The Spectric School of Poetry" (The Forum, June 1916) 228

Ernest L. Meyer, "An Introduction to Ultra-Violet Poetry" (Wisconsin Literary Magazine, January 1917) 232

From Cranks, 1921: An Anthology 235

Harold B. Harrison, "Pastiche. Initial Manifesto of the 'Fatuists' to the Public" (New Age, 1912) 238

Don Marquis, "Fothergil Finch, the Poet of Revolt" (Hermione and Her Little Group of Serious Thinkers, 1916) 241

John Triboulet, "Pastiche. Euphemisme; or, What You Will" (New Age, 1915) 244

III. Modernist Methodologies 248

John Collings Squire

"Short Cuts to Helicon" (Life and Letters, 1920) 251

"Editorial Notes" (London Mercury, August 1928) 255

Louis Untermeyer, "The Manufacture of Verse" (Heavens, 1922) 266

"Modern Masterpieces" (Chicago News, 11 April 1923) 272

Stuart Pratt Sherman, from Points of View (1924) 273

Max Eastman, from The Literary Mind: Its Place in an Age of Science (1931) 276

Mary Mills Lyall, from The Cubies' ABC (1924) 279

Harold B. Harrison

"Letters to the Editor. Cubism" (New Age, 1912) 285

"Letters to the Editor. Una Picarsita" (New Age, 1912) 286

"Letters to the Editor. Picasso" (New Age, 1911) 289

"Notes and Comment: Cubist Literature" (1913?) 290

Bert Leston Taylor, "A Line-o'-Type or Two" (Chicago Daily Tribune, 20 March 1913) 292

Bribby, "The Original Cubist" (Chicago Daily Tribune, 20 March 1913) 293

Bert Leston Taylor, "A Line-o'-Type or Two"
Chicago Daily Tribune, 25 March 1913 294
Chicago Daily Tribune, 5 April 1913 295

Julian Street, from "Why I Became a Cubist" (Everybody's Magazine, March 1913) 296

Pavel Jerdanowitch [Paul Jordan Smith], "Disumbrationism" 298
Exaltation ["Yes, We Have No Bananas"] 299
Aspiration 300
Capitulation 301

P. Selver, "Short Cuts to Literary Success" (New Age, 1915) 302

E.L.A., "Letters to the Editor. Post-Impressionism" (New Age, 1910) 311

Frank Reynolds, "Post-Impressionist Expressions" (Illustrated London News, 3 December 1910) 313

Franklin P. Adams, "The Conning Tower" (Chicago Evening Post, 9 April 1913) 314

Don Marquis, from "Voke Easeley and His New Art" (Hermione and Her Little Group of Serious Thinkers, 1916) 315

Harold Monroe, from Some Contemporary Poets (1920) 318

Edmund George Valpy Knox, "The Trotsky Touch" (A Little Loot, 1920) 321

Ernest Boyd, from "Aesthete: Model 1924" (American Mercury, 1924) 324

IV. Modernist Criticism 330

"Cubist Art Is Explained Clearly by a Post-Impressionist Writer" (Chicago Inter-Ocean, 21 March 1913) 331

Bert Leston Taylor, "A Line-o'-Type or Two" (Chicago Daily Tribune, 28 March 1913) 333

C.E. Bechhöfer, "Pastiche. More Contemporaries" (New Age, 1914) 334

Charles E. Brookfarmer [C.E. Bechhöfer], "Futile-Ism. Or, All Cackle and No Osses" (New Age, 1914) 335

- Ibn Gabirol, “My Friend, the Incurable” (Little Review, 1914) 339
- T.S. Eliot, from “A Brief Treatise on the Criticism of Poetry” (The Chapbook, March 1920) 341
- John Collings Squire, “Some Essentials of Criticism” (Collected Parodies, 1921) 343
- John Riddell, “The People’s Joyce” (Vanity Fair, June 1934) 347
- Arthur Booth, Cartoon (Dublin Opinion, January 1924) 352

V. Modernist Performances 353

- “Dunning Cubist Art Center” (Chicago Sunday Tribune, 23 March 1913) 354
- S.E. Kiser, “Whimwhams and Sentiment” (Chicago Record-Herald, 21 March 1913) 356
- “A Few Futurist Fancies” (Chicago Sunday Tribune, 16 March 1913) 357
- “Artists Give Cubist Play” (Chicago Daily Tribune, 27 March 1913) 358
- Mae Tinee, “Miss Polini of ‘Hindle Wakes’ Interviewed in Cubist Fashion” (Chicago Sunday Tribune, 13 April 1913) 360
- “Futurist Exhibit, Cub Park, April 10” (Chicago Sunday Tribune, 6 April 1913) 362
- “Our Own Little Cub-ist” (Chicago Daily Tribune, 25 March 1913) 363
- “‘Cliff Dwellers’ Satirize the Cubist Art in Pointed Caricatures” (Chicago Examiner, 2 April 1913) 365
- “The Cubist Outcubed; A Statue Frame” (Chicago Daily News, 20 March 1913, 3) 369
- “Cubist Art Ends ‘At the Stake’” (Chicago Record-Herald, 19 April 1913) 370
- “Students, Ready for Cubist Art ‘Execution’; ‘Rev.’ Mammes ‘Funeral’ Orator” (Chicago Record-Herald, 17 April 1913) 371
- “The Cubist Costume / Milady in Crazy Quilt” (Chicago Sunday Tribune, 6 April 1913) 373
- Marguerite Mooers Marshall, “No Straight Lines; All Cones, Triangles, Spirals and Circles – Shirt Collar, Coat and Trousers

- Must Be Pointed on One Side and Round on the Other” (Toledo Blade, 9 July 1914) 378
- “Futurist Man’s Dress to Be a One-Piece Suit with One Button and Twinkling in Colors” (Toledo Blade, 9 July 1914) 379
- Dick Hollywood [Don Marquis], “The Sun Dial: Taking up Music in a Serious Way” (New York Evening Sun, 18 January 1915) 381
- Stanley J. Fay, “All the Latest Dances” (Punch, 1 November 1911) 383
- Alfred Kreymborg, “Gertrude Stein – Hoax and Hoaxtruss: A Study of the Woman Whose ‘Tender Buttons’ Has Furnished New York with a New Kind of Amusement” (New York Morning Telegraph, 7 March 1915) 384
- “Our Own Polo Guide: The Game Explained a [sic] la Gertrude Stein” (New York Evening Sun, 13 June 1914) 391
- “How They Know It’s ‘a Bird’ and Are Sure It Is ‘Art’” (San Antonio Light, 25 December 1927) 393