

Contents

General Editor's Preface ix

Preface xv

Abbreviations and Master List of Periodicals xix

Introduction xxvii

- 1 Editions 1
- 2 Bibliographies, Indexes, and Other Research Tools 25
- 3 General Criticism and Cultural Background 35
- 4 Language, Metrics, and Studies of the Manuscripts or Early Editions 169
- 5 The Springtime Setting, the Narrator, and the Gathering at the Tabard (lines 1–42) 187
- 6 The Knight (lines 43–78) 211
- 7 The Squire (lines 79–100) 227
- 8 The Yeoman (lines 101–17) 235
- 9 The Prioress and her Companions (lines 118–64) 241
- 10 The Monk (lines 165–207) 273
- 11 The Friar (lines 208–69) 287

viii/Contents

- 12 The Merchant (lines 270–84) 299
 - 13 The Clerk (lines 285–308) 305
 - 14 The Serjeant of the Law (lines 309–30) 313
 - 15 The Franklin (lines 331–60) 323
 - 16 The Guildsmen (lines 361–78) 333
 - 17 The Cook (lines 379–87) 339
 - 18 The Shipman (lines 388–410) 343
 - 19 The Physician (lines 411–44) 347
 - 20 The Wife of Bath (lines 445–76) 355
 - 21 The Parson (lines 477–528) 367
 - 22 The Plowman (lines 529–41) 373
 - 23 The Transition and the Miller (lines 542–66) 377
 - 24 The Manciple (lines 567–86) 385
 - 25 The Reeve (lines 587–622) 389
 - 26 The Summoner (lines 623–68 and 673) 395
 - 27 The Pardoner (lines 669–714) 407
 - 28 The Narrator's Comments and Apology for His Style (lines 715–46) 423
 - 29 The Host and the Establishment of the Storytelling
Contest (lines 747–858) 427
- Index 437