

Acknowledgements

There are always people to thank in writing a book and this one is no exception. First I must thank Beverly Lemire and the other members of the Canadian Historical Association committee for their support and advice from the very beginning of the project. At various stages, the anonymous readers offered sound criticism and advice that I found useful; hopefully, their suggestions have helped me write a better book. Special thanks go to Natalie Fingerhut of the University of Toronto Press, who has believed in this project and guided it through to completion. Also, I would like to thank Betsy Struthers for copy editing the manuscript, Beate Schwirtlich for coordinating the book's production at the University of Toronto Press, and François Trahan for preparing the index. My wife, Teresa Lemieux, and daughters, Claire and Elizabeth, have provided constant support, and to the three of you I say, again, thank you.
