

Contents

List of Illustrations ix

Acknowledgments xi

1 Introduction: On Forewords and Historical Ghosts 3

Part One - Exiles in Literary History

2 Re-Engaging with Ghosts in the Poetic Machine 29

3 Writing the War, Re-Writing the Nation, Embodying the Voice of the People 47

Part Two - Exiles in Poetic Memory

4 Juan Ramón Jiménez: “Photography Is Death Itself” – Visionary Poetics, Ruins, and the Testimony of Antonio Machado 75

5 Luis Cernuda: “Remember Him and Remember Him to Others” – Historical Memory, Self-Elegy, and Mythopoetic Figuration 105

6 Max Aub 132

I. “Enclosed into Myself, Purlblind, Mute” – Margins of the Poetic
“I” and Testimonial Memory 132

II. Usurping the Apocryphal: Exilic Testimony, Cosmopolitan Memory, and National Culture (The Case of Antonio Muñoz Molina) 163

7 Tomás Segovia: “In Exile from Exile” – Nomadic Ethics and the Broken
Language of Ghosts 192

CODA: Antonio Machado’s Afterlives and Memories of Spanish Literary History 217

Notes 243

Works Cited 307

Index 339

