

Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction 3

Food Discourse and Francoist Spain: The State of the Scholarship 7

Franco and Fascism 9

Francoist Discourse and Control 10

Francoist Biopolitics and Food 12

Food Discourse and Resistance 15

Censorship in Franco's Spain: Resistance, Oversight, and Food Texts 17

Overview of This Book: Autarky, Gender, and Centralist

Nationalism 20

1 Food Discourse and the Production of Autarkic Subjectivities 26

Eat More Oranges 28

A Taste for Rice 34

An Appetite for Culinary Patriotism 43

Food Shortages and Culinary Abundance 48

No Place at the Table for Hunger 51

Pro-official Cookbooks in Times of Hunger 53

Providing an Account of Hunger in Cookbooks 61

Francoist Food Discourse: Autarky, Hunger, and Culinary

Patriotism 69

2 Beyond the Kitchen: Food Texts, Gender, and Compliance in Franco Spain 70

Writing Women Back Into the Kitchen 70

Constructing Subservient Subjectivities through Cookbooks 75

Cookery Instruction and the Authority of the Sección Femenina 78

The Authority of Modernity 81

Ana María Herrera and Manual de cocina: The Invisible Author	84
Sección Femenina Cookery Manuals and the Professional Domestic	89
The Gendering of Gastronomy: Sección Femenina and La Marquesa de Parabere	92
Breaking the Mould: Non-official Cookbooks	95
Mi recetario de cocina: Sarrau's Authorial Persona Emerges	100
La futura ama de casa: Constructing a Modern Spanish Womanhood	102
A Broader Narrative of Franco-Era Cookbooks: Obedience and Resistance	103

3 A Recipe for Spain: The Production of a Unified Gastronomic Space and the Gendering of Gastronomy	105
Establishing the Borders of Spanish Food Culture	107
The Gendering of Gastronomy and Food Discourse	109
The Production of a Unified Gastronomic Space	110
The Male Gastronome and National Unity: Erasing Regional Difference	115
Guía gastronómica de España: The Eradication of Regional Diversity and the Exclusion of Women	120
Cookbooks and Regional Ingredients in the National Recipe	124
Isabel de Trévis and the Authority of Male Gastronomes	130
Doménech's Food Discourse and Nationalism	134
Regional Cuisines: Minimized and Co-opted	138

Conclusion	139
-------------------	-----

Notes	147
--------------	-----

Works Cited	155
--------------------	-----

Index	167
--------------	-----