

Praise for Heidegger's Being

"Richard Capobianco's Heidegger's Being: The Shimmering Unfolding opens up heretofore unexplored perspectives on Heidegger's later thinking. Capobianco invites the reader to reflect on Heidegger's ways of Being through innovative scholarship that provides scholars and students with invaluable insights into Heidegger's later philosophy. This book is an essential addition to Heidegger scholarship by one of the most prominent scholars in Heidegger studies today."

Elias Schwieler, Associate Professor of Education,
Stockholm University

"This collection of reflections by Capobianco represents a unified, perceptive look into seminal ideas of Heidegger's lifelong attention to the question of Being, and suggests some thought-provoking attempts, philosophical ventures, to go beyond them, to think them through in a new way, to deepen and expand their understanding."

George Kovacs, Professor Emeritus of Philosophy,
Florida International University

"Richard Capobianco has long championed an important re-reading of Heidegger's work, highlighting the enduring unity of his focus on the question of Being, and Heidegger's many names for it, and challenging more idealistic renderings of Heideggerian thought. In his new (third) book, Capobianco again provides searching expositions of Heidegger's texts, especially in relation to early Greek thought. But he also expands this to include pioneering dialogues with Whitehead and C.G. Jung, and literary figures such as Melville, Frost, Whitman, and Rumi."

Richard Colledge, Associate Professor,
School of Philosophy, Australian Catholic University

New Studies in Phenomenology and Hermeneutics

Kenneth Maly, General Editor

New Studies in Phenomenology and Hermeneutics aims to open up new approaches to classical issues in phenomenology and hermeneutics. Thus its intentions are the following: to further the work of Edmund Husserl, Maurice Merleau-Ponty, and Martin Heidegger – as well as that of Paul Ricoeur, Hans-Georg Gadamer, and Emmanuel Levinas; to enhance phenomenological thinking today by means of insightful interpretations of texts in phenomenology as they inform current issues in philosophical study; to inquire into the role of interpretation in phenomenological thinking; to take seriously Husserl's term phenomenology as "a science which is intended to supply the basic instrument for a rigorously scientific philosophy and, in its consequent application, to make possible a methodical reform of all the sciences"; to take up Heidegger's claim that "what is own to phenomenology, as a philosophical 'direction,' does not rest in being real. Higher than reality stands possibility. Understanding phenomenology consists solely in grasping it as possibility"; to practice phenomenology as "underway," as "the praxis of the self-showing of the matter for thinking," as "entering into the movement of enactment-thinking."

The commitment of this book series is also to provide English translations of significant works from other languages. In summary, New Studies in Phenomenology and Hermeneutics intends to provide a forum for a full and fresh thinking and rethinking of the way of phenomenology and interpretive phenomenology, that is, hermeneutics.

For a list of books published in the series, see page 189.

Heidegger's Being

The Shimmering Unfolding

RICHARD CAPOBIANCO

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO PRESS
Toronto Buffalo London

© University of Toronto Press 2022
Toronto Buffalo London
utorontopress.com
Printed in the U.S.A.

ISBN 978-1-4875-4458-4 (cloth)
ISBN 978-1-4875-4643-4 (EPUB)
ISBN 978-1-4875-4644-1 (PDF)

New Studies in Phenomenology and Hermeneutics

Library and Archives Canada Cataloguing in Publication

Title: Heidegger's being : the shimmering unfolding / Richard Capobianco.

Other titles: Being : the shimmering unfolding | Shimmering unfolding

Names: Capobianco, Richard, 1957– author.

Series: New studies in phenomenology and hermeneutics (Toronto, Ont.)

Description: Series statement: New studies in phenomenology and hermeneutics | Includes bibliographical references and index.

Identifiers: Canadiana (print) 20210340037 | Canadiana (ebook)

20210340045 | ISBN 9781487544584 (cloth) | ISBN 9781487546434 (EPUB) |
ISBN 9781487546441 (PDF)

Subjects: LCSH: Heidegger, Martin, 1889–1976. | LCSH: Ontology. |
LCSH: Philosophy, Modern – 20th century.

Classification: LCC B3279.H49 C365 2022 | DDC 193 – dc23

We wish to acknowledge the land on which the University of Toronto Press operates. This land is the traditional territory of the Wendat, the Anishnaabeg, the Haudenosaunee, the Métis, and the Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation.

University of Toronto Press acknowledges the financial support of the Government of Canada, the Canada Council for the Arts, and the Ontario Arts Council, an agency of the Government of Ontario, for its publishing activities.

Canada Council
for the Arts

Conseil des Arts
du Canada

ONTARIO ARTS COUNCIL
CONSEIL DES ARTS DE L'ONTARIO
an Ontario government agency
un organisme du gouvernement de l'Ontario

Funded by the Government of Canada

Financé par le gouvernement
du Canada

Canada

Here after many hardships, endless wanderings, after twenty years, I have come home at last.

Odyssey, VI, 205

*Be not discouraged, keep on, there are divine things well envelop'd,
I swear to you there are divine things more beautiful than words can tell.*

Walt Whitman, from "Song of the Open Road"

This page intentionally left blank