

Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	vii
Introduction: Secularization and the Writing of Canadian Religious History	3
1 Clergymen and the Problem of Religious Doubt	25
2 The Emergence of Liberal Theology: A New Certainty?	49
3 Salvaging the Bible and the Evangelical Tradition	72
4 The False Promise of Missions	99
5 Stemming the Tide of Secularization, 1890–1914	127
6 Battling with the Great War	156
7 The 1920s: An Era of Drift	181
8 ‘Why No Revival?’	205
9 Stumbling towards a Theological Reformulation	228
Conclusion	249
NOTES	257
NOTE ON THE SOURCES	305
INDEX	313

