

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction	7
Part one: Contacts	11
1. Ottoman Sources of Information on Europe in the Eighteenth Century (reproduced with permission from Archivum Ottomanicum 11 (1986[1988]) 5-16)	13
2. Ottoman Political Writing, 1768-1808 (reproduced with permission from International Journal of Middle Eastern Studies , 25 (1993) 53-69)	25
3. Is There a Turk in the Turkish Spy ? (reproduced with permission from Eighteenth-Century Fiction 6 (1994) 201-214)	45
4. Choiseul-Gouffier at the Porte, 1784-1792 (reproduced with permission from Studies on Ottoman Diplomatic History 4 (1990) 27-34)	59
5. An Ottoman Portrait of Frederick the Great (reproduced with permission from Oriente Moderno n.s. 18 (1999), 203-15, special issue: The Ottoman Empire in the Eighteenth Century , Kate Fleet, ed.)	67
6. Locating the Ottomans Among Early Modern Empires (reproduced with permission from Journal of Early Modern History 3 (1999), 21-39)	81
7. Breaking the Spell of the Baron de Tott: Reframing the Question of Military Reform in the Ottoman Empire, 1760-1830 (reproduced with permission from International History Review 24 (2002), 253-77)	111
Part two: Conflicts	139
1. Ottoman War and Warfare 1453-1812 (reproduced with permission from Jeremy Black, ed., War and Warfare in the Early Modern World, 1450 - 1815 (London, 1999), 147-176)	141
2. The One-Eyed Fighting the Blind: Mobilization, Supply and Command in the Russo-Turkish War of 1768-1808 (reproduced with permission from International History Review xv (1993) 221-238)	173

3. Ottoman Military Recruitment Strategies in the Late Eighteenth Century (reproduced with permission from E. Zürcher, ed. Arming the State: Military Conscription in the Middle East and Central Asia 1775-1925 (New York, 1999), 21-39) 191
4. Feeding the Ottoman Troops on the Danube, 1768-1774 (reproduced with permission from War and Society 13 (1995) 1-14) 209
5. Whatever Happened to the Janissaries? Mobilization for the 1768-1774 Russo-Ottoman War (reproduced with permission from War in History, 5 (1998), 23-36) 223
6. Mutiny and the Eighteenth Century Ottoman Army (reproduced with permission from Turkish Studies Association Bulletin 22 (1998) 116-25) 239
7. "Manning a Black Sea Garrison in the 18th Century: Ochakov and Concepts of Mutiny and Rebellion in the Ottoman Context (reproduced with permission from International Journal of Turkish Studies 8 (2002) 63-72) 251