

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I should like to express my thanks to all those who have helped in the production of this study; to the late Caroline Bammel for her example; to the monastery of S. Catherine, Sinai, for permission to reproduce Gregory's portrait illumination from Codex 339; to Professor Hugh Houghton who has rescued this work from oblivion and kindly supported me throughout its presentation. Above all, I should like to express my warmest admiration and gratitude to Professor J. K. Elliott who was the perfect supervisor throughout my doctoral research.

As in many things my lifetime friend Sedwell Diggle gave her unfailing support; this study is dedicated to her memory with love and thanks.

Author's note: This work was originally submitted as a doctoral thesis in 2005. For the present book, it has been possible to introduce a few minor bibliographical updates, but the body of the work remains as in the initial thesis.
