

C O N T E N T S

Introduction	1
1 Losing Our Religion	5
2 “Showmen Is Devoid of Politics”: The Roots of Pseudo-Satire and the Rise of the Comedy-Industrial Complex	21
3 Film at 11:00, Jokes at 11:30: Topical Comedy and the News	39
4 The Personal and the Political	62
5 Pay No Attention to That Man in Front of the Curtain	88
6 Truth versus Truthiness; or, Looking for Mr. Smith	125
7 For Whom the Bell Dings	146
8 Laughing All the Way to the White House	170
9 Irony Is Dead . . . Long Live Satire?	194
Acknowledgments	209
Notes	211
Index	245

STRANGE BEDFELLOWS

