

Contents

Foreword: Assembling an Intersectional Pop Culture Analytical Lens	ix
FREDERICK LUIS ALDAMA

Introduction: Re-imagining Critical Approaches to Folklore and Popular Culture	i
DOMINO RENEE PEREZ AND RACHEL GONZÁLEZ-MARTIN

Part I Visualizing Race

1 A Thousand “Lines of Flight”: Collective Individuation and Racial Identity in Netflix’s Orange Is the New Black and Sense8	15
RUTH Y. HSU
2 Performing Cherokee Masculinity in The Doe Boy	33
CHANNETTE ROMERO
3 Truth, Justice, and the Mexican Way: Lucha Libre, Film, and Nationalism in Mexico	59
JAMES WILKEY
4 Native American Irony: Survivance and the Subversion of Ethnography	76
GERALD VIZENOR

Part II Sounding Race

5 (Re)imagining Indigenous Popular Culture	91
MINTZI AUANDA MARTÍNEZ-RIVERA

6	My Tongue Is Divided into Two OLIVIA CADAVAL WITH QUIQUE AVILÉS	110
7	Performing Nation Diva Style in Lila Downs and Astrid Hadad's La Tequilera K. ANGELIQUE DWYER	132
8	(Dis)identifying with Shakira's "Global Body": A Path toward Rhythmic Affiliations beyond the Dichotomous Nation/Diaspora DANIELA GUTIÉRREZ LÓPEZ	152
9	Voicing the Occult in Chicana/o Culture and Hybridity: Prayers and the Cholo-Goth Aesthetic JOSÉ G. ANGUIANO	175

Part III Racialization in Place

10	Ugly Brown Bodies: Queering Desire in Machete NICOLE M. GUIDOTTI-HERNÁNDEZ	197
11	"Bitch, how'd you make it this far?": Strategic Enactments of White Femininity in The Walking Dead JAIME GUZMÁN AND RAISA ALVARADO UCHIMA	225
12	Bridge and Tunnel: Transcultural Border Crossings in The Bridge and Sicario MARCEL BROUSSEAU	241
13	Red Land, White Power, Blue Sky: Settler Colonialism and Indigeneity in Breaking Bad JAMES H. COX	262
	Acknowledgments	279
	Notes on Contributors	281
	Index	285