

There is history precisely because no primeval legislator put words in harmony with things.

JACQUES RANCIÈRE, The Names of History

History, Theory, Text

Historians and the Linguistic Turn

ELIZABETH A. CLARK

HARVARD UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge, Massachusetts, and London, England 2004

*For Randall Styers
In remembrance of things past, and for time regained*

Copyright © 2004 by the President and Fellows of Harvard College
All rights reserved
Printed in the United States of America

Publication of this book was aided by a grant from Duke University

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Clark, Elizabeth A. (Elizabeth Ann), 1938–

History, theory, text : historians and the linguistic turn / Elizabeth A. Clark.
p. cm.

Includes bibliographical references and index.

ISBN 0-674-01516-9 (cloth : alk. paper) — ISBN 0-674-01584-3 (paper : alk. paper)

1. Historiography. 2. History—Philosophy. 3. Christian literature, Early—History and criticism. I. Title.

D13.C5827 2004

907'.2—dc22

2004047358