
Contents

Preface ix

Introduction: An Overview 1

- 1 Defending and Lamenting History 9
“That Noble Dream”: Ranke, His Legacy, and His Critics
Ranke in America
Epistemological Problems
Historians Besieged?
- 2 Anglo-American Philosophy and the Historians 29
Karl Popper, C.G. Hempel, and Their Critics
Arthur Danto
Anglophone Historians and Philosophers in the Later Twentieth Century
Historians’ Appeals to Philosophy
- 3 Language and Structures 42
Structuralism and History
Structural Linguistics: Saussure and Beyond
Claude Lévi-Strauss and Structural Anthropology
Four Critiques
The Legacy of Structuralism

4	The Territory of the Historian	63
	French Historiography
	Microhistory and Its Critics
	British Marxist Historiography
5	Narrative and History	86
	Narrative at Mid-Century: The Anglophone Tradition and Its Critics
	Narrative at Mid-Century: The French Tradition
	A "Revival of Narrative"?
	History, Narrative, and Ideology
	The Utility of Narrative?
6	The New Intellectual History	106
	The "History of Ideas": Arthur O. Lovejoy and His Critics
	All History as "Thought": R.G. Collingwood and His Critics
	The New Shapes of the History of Ideas
	From France to America: Dominick LaCapra
7	Texts and Contexts	130
	Literary Theorists and the Text
	Derrida and Gadamer: Deconstruction and Hermeneutics
	Contextualism
	Critiques of Contextualism
	Textualism in Interpretive Anthropology and Its Critics
8	History, Theory, and Premodern Texts	156
	Late Ancient Christian Studies
	Historians and the Premodern Text
	Patristics, History, and Theory
	Abbreviations and Frequently Cited Books	187
	Notes	193
	Index	319