

CONTENTS

LIST OF TABLES AND CHARTS	xiii
LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS	xv
LIST OF CHIEF LIBRARIES CONTAINING HANCOCK MATERIAL	xvii
EDITOR'S INTRODUCTION	xix
AUTHOR'S PREFACE	xxv

PART I

THOMAS HANCOCK, 1724-1764

I. INTRODUCTION TO THOMAS	3
1. The Hancock Family	3
2. Learning the Book Trade	4
3. Setting Up in Business	5
4. Minor Business Ventures	8
5. Marriage	9
II. TRADE WITHOUT MONEY	11
1. The Dearth of Coins	11
2. Substitutes for Money	16
3. The "Two-way Flow of Trade" and "Bookkeeping Barter"	17
4. Commodity Money	21
5. Triangular Transfers of Goods	24
6. Bills of Exchange Payable in Kind	26
7. Triangular Transfers of Credit	29
8. Contracts Partly in Cash and Partly in Goods	32
9. Contracts in Terms of Stable Money	33
10. Conclusions	34
Appendix: The Accounting System	35
III. FROM BOOKSELLER TO GENERAL MERCHANT, 1725-1735	39
1. The Change to Diversified Trade	39
2. How the Book Trade was Carried On	40
3. The Struggle with Cox's Man	41
Appendix: Thomas Orders Books from Longman	43

IV. THE BEGINNING OF ROUNDABOUT OVERSEAS TRADE,
C. 1728-1738	45
1. Failure of Direct Exchange with London	45
2. Whalebone, Fins, and Oil	48
3. Triangular Trade with "The Land" and London	51
4. Ventures to Portugal and Spain	52
5. Shipowning	55
6. The Rôle of the London Agents	59
V. UPSETTING FORCES, C. 1738	62
1. A New Turning Point	62
2. Financial Difficulties	63
3. Conspicuous Consumption	67
4. Fresh Incentives to Smuggling	69
5. War	74
6. Conclusions	75
Appendix: The Hancock House	75
VI. THE WAR OF JENKINS' EAR, 1739-1744	78
1. Business Recovers during the West Indies Cam- paign	78
2. Privateering	80
3. Triangular Trade with the West Indies and Holland	82
Appendix: Documents Illustrating the Shipping Ventures	86
VII. KING GEORGE'S WAR, 1744-1748	92
1. Foreign Trade Grows Difficult	92
2. Christopher Kilby and Government Contracts	95
3. The Annapolis Supply	97
4. Louisbourg	100
5. The Fruits of War Finance	103
Appendix: Letters Illustrating Government Con- tracts	107
VIII. PEACE AND DEPRESSION, 1748-1754	111
1. The Postwar Deflation	111
2. Shipping, Customs Troubles, and Tea Smuggling	113
3. The Founding of Halifax	118
Appendix: A. Letters Dealing with Tea Duties	124
B. Financial Notes on a Voyage	125

Contents

xi

IX. THE FRENCH AND INDIAN WAR, 1755-1763 . . .	129
1. The Attack on Fort Beauséjour	129
2. Uprooting the Acadians	132
3. Louisbourg and Quebec	134
4. The Tail-end of the War	142
5. New Blood in the Firm	146
6. Minor Government Contracts, 1760-1764 . . .	150
Appendix: A. Credit Sales, 1755-1775 . . .	156
B. Woodford's Accounts with the Lords of the Treasury	157
X. A NEW FOREIGN TRADE POLICY, 1763-AUGUST, 1764	162
1. Potash	162
2. Closer Relations with Barnard & Harrison . . .	167
3. Back to Oil	168
4. The Development of a London Shipping Service .	176
Appendix: A. Stephens' Letter from London on the Potash Trade	180
B. Financial Data concerning the 1764 Summer Shipment on the Lydia .	182
XI. EVERYDAY BUSINESS LIFE IN COLONIAL BOSTON . .	184
1. The Shopkeeper	184
2. The Creditor	190
3. Difficulties of Trading	193
4. Correspondence	195
5. The Agent	197
6. Casual Partnership	202
7. The Banker	204
8. The Landlord	208
9. Manufacturing and Mining Ventures	211
Appendix: A. Sales to Country Merchants . . .	216
B. Letters Illustrating the Trade of a Commission Agent	217

PART II

JOHN HANCOCK, 1764-1775

XII. CHANGE OF GOVERNMENT, 1764-1766	223
1. The End of Thomas	223
2. King Hancock Ascends	224

3. Fresh Battles for Oil	226
4. The Shadow of the Stamp Act	231
5. The Act Comes into Force	236
XIII. JOHN'S POLICY OF EXPANSION, 1766-1768	240
1. Integration	240
2. The Oil Battle Reaches Its Climax	243
3. The Partnership Explodes	246
4. The New Agent	251
5. The Last of the Government Contracts	253
XIV. NON-IMPORTATION, 1768-1770	256
1. John Enters Politics	256
2. The Lydia Case	260
3. The Liberty Case	262
4. John's Trial	266
5. Non-Importation	268
6. Shipping, 1765-1775	271
Appendix: A. Life on a Cargo Boat	275
B. List of John's More Important Vessels	278
XV. THE DEATH OF THE BUSINESS, 1771-1775	279
1. Recovery from Non-Importation	279
2. The Tea Party	281
3. Finis	285
4. John's Political Career	289
XVI. CONCLUSIONS	293
1. The Business in Review	293
2. General Conditions of Colonial Trade	294
3. Business Organization: The Unspecialized Merchant	298
4. Business Organization: Agency	300
5. Business Organization: Partnership	303
6. The Hancocks' Contribution to the Community	304
INDEX	309