

CONTENTS

A Personal Retrospect	1
Leech-Gathering	17
The Modern Humanities in Historical Perspective	24
Why Literary Criticism Is Not an Exact Science	40
English, American, and Comparative Literature	57
Comparing the Literature	74
Thematics and Criticism	91
Two Romanisten in America	110
A Dialogue with Arthur Lovejoy	131
Memoirs of Scholars
1 Milman Parry	140
2 Fernand Baldensperger	147
3 Renato Poggioli	151
4 Perry Miller	155
The Judgment of Posterity	160
From Terence to Tabarin:
A Note on Les Fourberies de Scapin	174
An Introduction to Ben Jonson	183
On the Earl of Rochester	207
From Gusle to Tape-Recorder	212
The Quixotic Principle: Cervantes and Other Novelists	224
On the Dissemination of Realism	244
America Discovers Bohemia	262
William Carlos Williams and the Old World	278
Footnotes to Poets
1 E. E. Cummings	289
2 T. S. Eliot	293
3 Marianne Moore	296
Reappraisals of Novels
1 Les Liaisons dangereuses	300
2 The Charterhouse of Parma	308
3 The Scarlet Letter	316
4 The House of the Seven Gables	329

x Contents

Dickens after a Century	339
Proust, Gide, and the Sexes	351
Joyce as Critic	358
Tragedy, Revolution, and André Malraux	365
The Harvest of Thomas Mann	369
Introducing Vladimir Nabokov	376
“A Matter of National Concern”: The Report of the Commission on Obscenity and Pornography	380
 Bibliography	 399
Index	415

Grounds for Comparison

