

CONTENTS

LIST OF TABLES, xv

FOREWORD BY ABRAM BERGSON, xvii

INTRODUCTION, 1

Part I: Theory

1. TAXATION AND DIRECT ECONOMIC CONTROLS, 13

The problem. Areas of direct control and free market in the USSR. The role of taxation.

2. TAXATION, INFLATION, AND THE FINANCIAL PLAN, 22

The financial plan. Method of analysis. Anticipated inflationary pressures. Unanticipated inflationary pressures. Taxation problems and policies.

3. ALTERNATIVE METHODS OF TAXATION, 61

Consistency of the factor-pricing system and wages policy. The "money illusion," political discontent, and economic incentives. Planner autonomy and consumer welfare. Differential rent. Costs of administration. Functions of direct taxation. Taxation in kind of agriculture.

4. THE STRUCTURE OF SOVIET COMMODITY TAXATION, 87

Definition. Description. Administrative and fiscal considerations. The indicator of enterprise performance. Managerial incentives. The problem of product-mix (assortment).

Part II: History

5. DEVELOPMENTS LEADING TO THE TAX REFORM OF 1930, 105

Economic basis of taxes in the Early NEP period. Principal changes in the economic situation during NEP. Principal taxes on industry and trade during NEP. The Tax Reform of 1930.

6. DEVELOPMENTS IN THE TURNOVER AND PROFITS TAXES AFTER 1930, 123

Changes in the turnover-tax system in 1931–32. Supplements to the turnover tax. The number of turnover-tax rates. Evolution of the profits tax. Turnover-tax rates. Impact of the turnover tax on the distribution of income.

7. TAXATION IN KIND, 159

Brief history before 1933. Obligatory deliveries, 1933–1940. Recent developments in taxation in kind. The rate of taxation in kind (grain), 1937–1939.

8. DIRECT TAXATION OF THE POPULATION AND MISCELLANEOUS SOURCES OF BUDGET INCOME, 177

Direct taxation of the urban population. Direct taxation of the agricultural population. Sales of government bonds. Income tax on the collective farms (kolkhozy). Income tax on coöperative organizations. Other sources of budget income.

*Part III: Statistical Analysis9. TRENDS IN SOVIET TAXATION, 215

Description of the data. Tax trends: 1928–29 to 1940. Tax trends after 1941. The budgetary imbalance.

10. THE "BURDEN" OF MONEY TAXATION, 241

General methodological approach. Some specific problems and assumptions in measuring income and taxation. Statistical results: "Burden" of taxation. Burden of taxation: The United States and Soviet Union compared. Trends in the burden of taxation. Alternative measurements of the burden. Factor cost of goods and services sold to consumers.

*Part IV: Evaluation11. A CRITIQUE OF SOVIET TAXATION, 275

Criteria for taxation. Containment of inflation. Incentives. Equity. Allocation of resources. Alternative methods of taxation reconsidered. Final comments.

APPENDIX: SOURCES AND NOTES FOR TABLES, 309NOTES, 333*INDEX, 371