

CONTENTS

FOREWORD	ix
ABOUT THE AUTHORS	x
EDITORS' NOTE	viii
INTRODUCTION
Martin S. Staum, University of Calgary	1
MORAL AND LEGAL ISSUES IN THE PHYSICIAN-PATIENT RELATIONSHIP
Biomedical Power Equals Moral Authority	15
David J. Roy, Center for Bioethics, Clinical Research Institute of Montreal
The Nature and Limits of the Physician's Authority	29
John C. Moskop, East Carolina University
The Doctor-Patient Relationship and the Law	45
Ellen Picard, University of Alberta
Comments on the Papers of Roy, Moskop, and Picard	59
Robert E. Hatfield, Calgary
THE EMERGENCE OF MODERN MEDICAL AUTHORITY
The Political Economy of Health in France 1770-1830	71
Harvey Mitchell, University of British Columbia
The Decline of the Ordinary Practitioner and the Rise of a Modern Medical Profession	105
Toby Gelfand, University of Ottawa
HEALTH CULTURES IN CONFLICT
Dominance and Domination in Health Care: A Trans- cultural Perspective	133
Hazel Weidman, University of Miami
Traditional Chinese Medicine and Western Medical Practice: Personal Observations	147
Anthony K. S. Lam, Calgary
Patients and Providers: Alternative Power Relationships in a Community Health Centre	153
Carol Herbert, Vancouver

THE HEALTH CARE TEAM

Accountability in the Nursing Profession 163
Josephine Flaherty, Health and Welfare Canada

A Prolegomenon to the Allocation of Responsibility in Hierarchical Organizations: Nurses and Physicians 175
Benjamin Freedman, University of Calgary

Physician Privilege and Accountability 193
Lionel E. McLeod, University of Calgary

HEALTH CARE AND PUBLIC POLICY

Whose Responsibility? Public Health in Canada, 1919-1945 205
Janice P. Dickin McGinnis, University of Alberta

Medicine and the State in Canada 231
Anne Crichton, University of British Columbia

Comments on the Papers of McGinnis and Crichton 253
Malcolm C. Brown, University of Calgary

Medical Technology and Health Care 259
Thomas McKeown, University of Birmingham

Comment on the Paper of McKeown 273
Cathy Charles, Alberta Hospitals and Medical Care

CONCLUSION 279
Donald E. Larsen, University of Calgary