

Contents

Acknowledgements • ix

Introduction • 1

Meet the Monster

I or Us by the Erasing Frankenstein Collective

Elizabeth Effinger in collaboration with Sue Sinclair

I or Us • 19

The Erasing Frankenstein Collective

Chapter 1 • 199

The Harms of Incarceration and the Transformative Potentiality of Art

Reflections from Experiential Knowledge

Nyki Kish

Chapter 2 • 209

“Harm Asks Questions of Me”

On the Practice and Ethics of Erasure Poetry

Sue Sinclair

Chapter 3 • 239

The Composite Art and Carceral Aesthetics of I or Us

Elizabeth Effinger

Chapter 4 • 261

Embracing the “Workshop of Filthy Creation”

Frankenstein, Failure, and the Public Humanities

Elizabeth Effinger

Afterword • 281

Mark A. McCutcheon

Further Reading • 287

Annotated List of Erasure Poems

Notes • 299

Bibliography • 321

Index • 335