Contents

List of tables and boxes vi

one Introduction 1
Further reading 7

two What is community development? 9
Underpinning principles and processes 9
Providing help, building on resources 13
Community development's core values 14
An integrated approach 17
Related models 17
Brief conclusion 26
Summary 27
Further reading 27

three The changing policy context 29
How community policies have developed 29
Constant themes in community policy 36
Brief conclusion 45
Summary 46
Further reading 46

four Theoretical concepts 49
What theory offers 49
Theories of community 50
Psychological concepts and theories 54
Theories of power: structure or agency? 63
Organisations and institutions: how agency is organised 68
Systems and ecological approaches 69
Social movement theory 70
Brief conclusion 72

Summary 73
Further reading 74

five Effective and ethical community development: what's needed? 77
Working with people in groups and organisations 80
Dealing with difficulties 81
Working with organisations 82
Networking and engagement 84
Getting to know the community 87
Resources and support 89
Supporting opportunities to learn 91
Working with volunteers and activists 93
Communication and knowledge management 94
Using and influencing policies 96
Competencies and core values 97
Brief conclusion 99
Summary 99
Further reading 100

six Applying community development in different service areas 103
Environmental action and sustainable development 107
Economic responses to poverty and social exclusion 113
Health and wellbeing 117
Community arts, crafts and culture 122
Brief conclusion 128
Summary 128
Further reading 128

seven Challenges for practice 131
Developing a strategic approach 132
Orientation 133
Status and recognition 134
Role boundaries 136
Community belonging: place and identity? 137
Equality and diversity 140

Leadership and representation issues 143
Accountability 145
Mainstreaming, targeted or specialist work? 146
Demonstrating impact: measuring the social return 147
Professional standards and ethics 150
Brief conclusion 151
Summary 152
Further reading 153

eight Future prospects 155
Developments since 2011 155
Neoliberal globalisation 157
The shrinking state: preserving the public sphere 161
Redefining community: migration and its significance for place 164
The digital age 166
A new politics 169
Climate change and sustainable development 170
Bringing it all together 171
Summary 173
Further reading 174

Appendix: Resources 191
The main community development organisations in the UK 191
International community development organisations 196
Opportunities for further study or training 197

Index 199