Contents

List of tables and boxes		vi
Acknowledgements		vii
1	Introduction	1
	A brief history	3
	Recent changes	4
	Defining community development?	6
	Overview of the book	7
	Some thoughts on terminology	8
2	What is community development?	13
	Unpacking the role	16
	Practices and processes	16
	Community development's core values	19
	Underpinning strategies	21
	Providing help, strengthening resourcefulness	24
	Models and approaches	25
	Community practice	31
	Conclusion	32
3	The changing policy context	35
	Origins and early applications	35
	The renaissance of community	37
	A new direction?	38
	International perspectives	40
	Recent developments	41
	Continuing themes in community policy	42
	Conclusion	49

4	Theoretical concepts	53
	What theory offers	53
	Theories of community	54
	Psychosocial concepts and theories	57
	Theories of the state, democracy and the process of government	63
	Theories of power: structure or agency?	68
	Organisations, institutions and systems: how agency is organised	73
	Social movement theory	75
	Conclusion	77
5	Effective and ethical community development	81
	Understanding the community	83
	Working with people individually and in groups	85
	Dealing with differences and difficulties	86
	Establishing formal organisations	87
	Networking and engagement	89
	Resources and support	91
	Opportunities to learn	93
	Working with volunteers and activists	95
	Communication and knowledge management	97
	Using and influencing policies	98
	Evaluation: capturing learning and measuring change	99
	Integrity and accountability	101
	Conclusion	103
6	Community development in action	107
	Housing	109
	Economic responses to poverty and social exclusion	113
	Environmental action and sustainable development	118
	Health, well-being and social care	122
	Tackling inequalities	127
	Conclusion	132

7	Challenges for practice	137
	Coherence and infrastructure	137
	Role boundaries and power dynamics	138
	Community allegiance: place and identity	139
	Equality and diversity	141
	Leadership and representation	143
	Multifaceted expectations and accountabilities	145
	Balancing formal and informal ways of working	148
	Resourcing, recognition and professional status	150
	Demonstrating impact: identifying outcomes and social return	153
	Scale and sustainability	155
	Dealing with uncertainty and disruption	156
	Conclusion	157
8	Future prospects	161
	Developments since previous editions	161
	Changing politics	162
	Poverty and the economy	164
	Navigating the digital universe	165
	Redefining community: migration, identity and the significance of place	168
	The public sphere and public space	169
	The climate and sustainable development	172
	Conclusion	173
References		177
Index		201