Index

Page numbers in italic type refer to figures; those in bold type refer to tables.

A	Indigenous children in care 130
acquired capability (AC) 209, 210, 213-214,	out-of-home care 169
215, 217	reported suicide attempts on leaving adaptive participation model 129–130,	care 207
136–144	suicidal ideation studies 206 audience and influence 143–144	transitions from care policy 130, 132 see also 'hard to reach' groups, modes of inquiry 142–143	trauma-informed research in Australia resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141	with; residential out-of-home care in Adeboye, T.K. 55	Australia, stability in; social capital, Adley, N. 212, 213	impact on care-leaver transitions
adulthood, transitioning to	in Australia challenges for care-leavers 205–207,	Australian Institute of Health and Welfare
215, 225	(AIHW) 130, 132
challenges for disabled	D
care-leavers 111–112	В
'emerging adulthood' vs. 'instant	Barker, J. 188, 189, 191, 195, 198, 199, adulthood' 189, 225	200, 201
experiences of agency and use of time	Barrett, S. 207
horizons 190	Beck's Hopelessness Theory (BHS) 208
LGBTQIA+ youth	behavioural development 228
foster-care-leavers 71–72	effective sanctions 228, 235–236,
street-connected care-leavers 41–42, 46,	238, 240
47–49	social norms and expected behaviour typology of resilience in	226–227, 228 , 235, 238, 239
care-leavers 189–190	and social presentation 235-236
see also social capital, impact on	social relationships, health and 232-233 care-leaver transitions in Australia;	behavioural problems, placement instability unaccompanied migrant young people	and links to 171–172
(UMYP) leaving care in Spain	'belonging', need for 63-64, 211
aftercare support for care-leavers	belongingness, thwarted 209, 210,
Denmark 191, 192	211–212
Northern Ireland 116	Bengtsson, M. 190, 206
Norway 97, 101, 105–106, 116	Bengtsson, T.T. 189, 193, 202 experiences of disabled care-leavers	Bennwik, I.H.B. 103, 104, 105, 106, 96–97, 102–107	112, 116
policy for disabled	Berenson, L. 58, 157 care-leavers 105–106	Berlin, M. 207
social workers' discretionary judgement	bilateral curriculum 78–79 about aftercare 97, 98–102	Bolivia see street-connected care-leavers
South Africa 116–117	in Bolivia
street-connected care-leavers 37, 42-44,	Bollinger, J. 169
47–48	Bond, S. 54
alienation, feelings of 212	bonding capital 228 , 232, 233, 234, 235, anti-oppressive practice (AOP) 76–77,	236, 237
159, 160	Bourdieu, P. 190, 223, 224, 226, 236
audience for research findings 143–144	Brandon, M. 207
Australia	bridging capital 228, 233,
care-leaver studies 36	234, 236
disabled care-leavers 130	Bucuta, M.D. 55

6	disabled same learners
C	disabled care-leavers
Campbell, M. 94, 95, 96, 100	in Australia 130 prevalence in care-leaving population 111
Canada 36, 55, 155	disabled care-leavers in Norway, analysing
Canavan, J. 223, 224–225	experience of 97–98, 102–107
caring approach to research with	the experience 102–104 care-experienced people 7, 148-166 addressing and ensuring meaningful	identifying institutional processes 104–105 institutional ethnography of benefit participant involvement 159-161, 162	to 107–108 barriers to establishing 149	investigating institutional building rapport 40, 152–153, 158	processes 105–107 care during analysis and	models of disability 106–107 dissemination 153–156, 162	organisation of services 106 care during research design 150–153, 162	policy on aftercare support 105–106
a 'caring' view 148–150	Norwegian context 96–97
checklist for researchers 160–161, 161 , 162	disabled care-leavers, methodological issues insider researchers 149, 156–159, 247, 253	in interviewing 6–7, 111–128 nature of distance in research	categorisation of disabled young people and relationship 148–149	impact on recruitment 117–119, 124 power imbalances 148–149, 157–158,	challenging medical model of 159, 161–162	disability 119
Cashmore, J. 169, 170, 171, 172, 180,	'communication toolbox' 121
207, 208	designing an inclusive research
Castro, C.A. 215	approach 120-121, 124
casual staff 179–180, 182	ethical challenges 115
Charmaz, K. 57, 58, 156, 157	impact of country context 115-117
checklist for researchers 160–161, 161 , 162 Child Welfare Act 1992 96, 101, 116	methodological approach 113-115, church organisations 61	114–115
co-resident stability 179, 182	positioning disability 112–113
Coleman, J.C. 224, 239	responding to fieldwork
Coleman, J.S. 224, 227, 236, 237	challenges 121–124
collaborative group relationships between	involvement of parents/carers 123 street-connected children 59–61	regular contact with 'communication toolbox' 121	participants 123–124 companionate support 227 , 233–234, 237	research methods when interviews were CoRiT (Community of Researchers in	not possible 122
Transition) 4	retention of participants 123–124
Courtney, M. 36, 71, 132, 133	self-identities and disassociation with
Cramer, R.J. 205, 214, 215, 216	disability 118–119
CREATE Foundation 132	disclosure of insider researcher status 158 critical disability studies 112-113, 119,	disengaged groups of care-leavers see 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed 121, 122, 124–125	research in Australia with
_	distance in research relationship 148–149
D	Dixon, J. 206, 207
data analysis and dissemination, considering	drugs 47, 183
care during 153–156	Durkheim, E. 215
data auditing 158–159	Dworsky, A. 36
Del Valle, J.F. 15, 16, 28, 30	**
Denmark see instability in lives of	E care-leavers in Denmark
Devaney, C. 172	early parenting
DeVault, M.L. 94, 95, 96, 98, 105	researching care-leavers and 129, 138, developmental resources 8, 228,	143, 246
232, 240	street-connected care-leavers 44–45
Dickens, L.F. 36, 116, 237	see also 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-digital contact as a source of social	informed research in Australia with support 30, 243–244	Ebenezer, W.D. 55
Dima, G. 55, 211, 212	ecomaps 81, 120

embodied experience of street-connected	family-like relationships care-leavers 46–47, 48	housing, identity and 235 emotional and behavioural	and identity 233–234 development 228	Fawley-King, K. 170, 171
and social presentation 235-236	Flynn, C. 135, 136, 139, 173, 174 social relationships, health and 232-233	food, obtaining 60–61
emotional boundaries 150–151	Fulginiti, A. 212 emotional support 227	funding for research 140, 141
early parenting and links with lack of 44–45	future research 1–3, 247–248, 250–252, from families of unaccompanied migrant	252–253
young people 27, 30
'getting by' with 229, 237, 238–239	G García-Alba, L. 15, 16, 28, 29 ongoing staff contact providing 181	gatekeepers and smooth transitioning to	addressing safety concerns of 151–152 adulthood 46, 237	establishing trusting relationships
social capital and 232–233, 234, 236,	with 152
237, 239	negotiating with 117–118, 124 street-connected care-leavers and 45–46,	Global South 3, 9, 252, 253 48–49
employment 28–29, 206, 215	Göbbels-Koch, P. 151, 152, 205, 209, 210
empowering research designs 133–136,	González-Alvarez, R. 73, 74
137, 143	González-García, C. 14, 29 caring approaches for 159–160	Gregor, F. 94, 95, 96, 100 modes of inquiry 142–143	grounded theory 57, 58, 157
empowerment-based practices and	group living
LGBTQIA+ youth 80, 82, 83	house and ballroom communities 73–74 street-connected children 59–61, 63–64 engagement of young people in research projects	groups of care-leavers 5–6, 243–245, 250–251 addressing and ensuring meaningful 159–161, 162	Gwenzi, G.D. 56
,
during analysis and dissemination of	Н during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 during analysis and dissemination of	habitus 190–191
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228,	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7,
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130,
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144 modes of inquiry 142–143
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143 F family	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144 modes of inquiry 142–143 resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143 F family recognising importance of 61	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144 modes of inquiry 142–143 resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141 care populations 130
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143 F family recognising importance of 61 street-connected care-leavers and lack of	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144 modes of inquiry 142–143 resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141 care populations 130 Indigenous children in care 130
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143 F family recognising importance of 61 street-connected care-leavers and lack of support from 44–45, 47–48	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144 modes of inquiry 142–143 resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141 care populations 130 Indigenous children in care 130 participatory and empowering
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143 F family recognising importance of 61 street-connected care-leavers and lack of support from 44–45, 47–48 support for unaccompanied migrant	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144 modes of inquiry 142–143 resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141 care populations 130 Indigenous children in care 130 participatory and empowering methodologies 133–136
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143 F family recognising importance of 61 street-connected care-leavers and lack of support from 44–45, 47–48 support for unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 25, 27, 29, 30, 243–244	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144 modes of inquiry 142–143 resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141 care populations 130 Indigenous children in care 130 participatory and empowering methodologies 133–136 recruitment and sampling
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143 F family recognising importance of 61 street-connected care-leavers and lack of support from 44–45, 47–48 support for unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 25, 27, 29, 30, 243–244 Family Code, Bolivian 43	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144 modes of inquiry 142–143 resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141 care populations 130 Indigenous children in care 130 participatory and empowering methodologies 133–136 recruitment and sampling difficulties 132–133
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143 F family recognising importance of 61 street-connected care-leavers and lack of support from 44–45, 47–48 support for unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 25, 27, 29, 30, 243–244 Family Code, Bolivian 43 'family' groups	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144 modes of inquiry 142–143 resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141 care populations 130 Indigenous children in care 130 participatory and empowering methodologies 133–136 recruitment and sampling difficulties 132–133 Hart, R. 134, 135
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143 F family recognising importance of 61 street-connected care-leavers and lack of support from 44–45, 47–48 support for unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 25, 27, 29, 30, 243–244 Family Code, Bolivian 43 'family' groups house and ballroom communities 73–74	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144 modes of inquiry 142–143 resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141 care populations 130 Indigenous children in care 130 participatory and empowering methodologies 133–136 recruitment and sampling difficulties 132–133 Hart, R. 134, 135 Hawke, L.D. 153
during analysis and dissemination of research 153–156, 162 in research design 150–153, 162 trauma-informed research to encourage 143–144 environmental resources 8, 228, 232–236, 240 epistemic injustice 149, 159 epistemic trust injustice 160 esteem support 227, 233, 234, 237, 239 ethics 40–41, 59, 115, 135 Ethiopia, street-involved children in 55 executive functioning impairments 172 exploratory research 173 extrospective questioning 142–143 F family recognising importance of 61 street-connected care-leavers and lack of support from 44–45, 47–48 support for unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 25, 27, 29, 30, 243–244 Family Code, Bolivian 43 'family' groups	habitus 190–191 habitus of instability 188, 189, 191, 200–202 facets of instability 193–199 adapting to an unstable life 193–195 instability as an uncontrollable circumstance in life 195–197 seeking to stabilise an unstable life 197–199 Hamilton, D.J. 207, 212 'hard to reach' groups, trauma-informed research in Australia with 7, 129–147, 246 adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144 audience and influence 143–144 modes of inquiry 142–143 resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141 care populations 130 Indigenous children in care 130 participatory and empowering methodologies 133–136 recruitment and sampling difficulties 132–133 Hart, R. 134, 135

Index

Hjern, A. 204, 207	institutional ethnography, study analysing Hlungwani, J. 54, 64, 65	experiences of disabled care-leavers in homeless youth, survey of 154	Norway 97–98, 102–107 homelessness among care-leavers 36, 55,	the experience 102–104
71, 191	identifying institutional
Horn, J.P. 158	processes 104–105
housing 235	investigating institutional
I	processes 105–107 models of disability 106–107 identity	organisation of services 106 development 237	policy on aftercare support 105–106 disabled care-leavers and self- 118–119	Norwegian context 96–97 family-like relationships and 233–234	ways institutional ethnography benefits housing, family relationships and 235	the study 107–108 self-care and independent living skills,	institutional ethnography, study of social income and 234	workers' discretionary judgement about inclusive research approach 120–121,	aftercare in Norway 97, 98–102
124, 134	the experience 98–100 independent living skills 46, 234, 237	identifying institutional assessment tool 16	processes 100–101
unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 16,	investigating institutional
18 , 20 , 22 , 25, 28–29, 30	processes 101–102
India, street-involved children in 55	Norwegian context 96–97 informational channels 228, 234, 237	ways institutional ethnography benefits informed consent 59, 135	the study 107–108 inhibitory control, impact of placement	Interpersonal-Psychological Theory of instability on 172	Suicide (IPTS) 205, 208–209, inquiry, modes of 142-143	209–210, 210
insider researchers 58, 149, 156–159,	acquired capability 209, 213-214, 215, 217 247, 253	examples from leaving-care studies and instability in lives of care-leavers in	link to 211–214
Denmark 8, 188–203	integration into other suicide and disappointing welfare	theories 214–216, 217 outcomes 188	perceived burdensomeness 209, 212–213 facets of instability 193–199	questionnaires 210, 217 adapting to an unstable life 193–195, 200	thwarted belongingness 209, 211–212 instability as an uncontrollable	intimate partner violence 44–45 circumstance in life 195–197	INTRAC (International Research seeking to stabilise an unstable	Network on Transitions to Adulthood life 197–199	from Care) 4
future research 201–202	introspective questioning 142–143 instability as a circumstance in life 189–191	J methodology 188, 192-193	Jacquez, F. 154 out-of-home care in Denmark 191, 192	Joiner, T.E. 205, 209, 214, 215 participants 191–192	Jupp Kina, V. 212, 213 recommendations for policy 201	V
institutional ethnography 6, 94-110, 247	K benefits of approach 107–108	Kapusta, N.D. 205, 214, 215, 216
combining individual experiences and	Keller, S. 132, 135, 152, 153 institutional perspectives 93-94	Kelly, B. 53, 111, 112, 116, 118, 120, 122, concept of power 107	123, 124, 135, 151
data levels 95	Kids Haven 57, 63
methodology and theory 94–96	Kim, E. 94, 95
the problematic 95	Kintzle, S. 215
ruling relations 95, 107–108	L texts 96
three step approach to analysing interviews 98	loneliness 46, 47, 211–212 ladder of participation 134–135
	L

Law 548: New Code for Children and	engaging young people with mental Adolescents 37	health challenges 154
Law 603: Bolivian Family Code 43	informal social capital and support
Lewis, E.E. 172	for 232–233, 239
LGBTQIA+ youth foster-care-leavers 6, 71–89, 244	placement instability and links with use of mental health services 171 critical approaches for working with 79-83	unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 26, 29 building and enhancing supportive networks 80–81	see also suicide risk among care-leavers, understanding positive youth development 82–83	methods, research 6–7, 245–247, 251–252
strengths and empowerment-based	Military Transition Theory 215 practices 80	minority stress theory 74–75, 76
trauma-informed care 81–82	Mokgopha, M.S. 36 difficulties accessing support and	Mølholt, A.K. 188, 189, 191, 192, 193, resources 71–72, 79	194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 202 future research 72, 77	'moving on', care-leavers 131, 189–190, resilience patterns 72–74, 80, 82, 83 risks for 71–72, 79, 83	197–199, 201, 206, 225–226, 229, 239 Mupaku, W. 112, 120 structural approaches to protect and support 77–79, 83	N
mandated training 78–79	narrative analysis 39-40 policies and guidelines 77–78	Netherlands, LGBTQIA+ youth research and evaluation 77	foster-care-leavers 73 safe, inclusive, affirming resources and	network of researchers 3–5 environments 79	network of researchers 3 3 networking for resources 61–62, 64
SOGIE data collection 78
theoretical frameworks 74–77	in care setting 65
anti-oppressive practice	Newton, R.R. 169, 170, 171, 172 perspective 76–77	Northern Ireland (NI) life course theory 75, 76	designing an inclusive research minority stress theory 74–75, 76	approach 120 resilience theory 75–76	overview of study with disabled life course theory 75, 76	care-leavers 113–115, 114–115 life lessons and reflective learning 62–63, 64	policies on care-leavers and disabled care-leavers 116
nurturing reflective learning in care	statistics on suicide attempts 207 setting 65–66	see also disabled care-leavers, life-mode interview approach 121	methodological issues in interviewing life skills development see independent	Norway living skills	child welfare services and aftercare
linking capital 228 , 233, 237	support 96–97, 101, 116
Lundy, L. 135, 136	designing an inclusive research
Luwangula, R. 55	approach 121
M	disabled care-leavers 116
Macheniedze N 55	overview of study with disabled
Machenjedze, N. 55 Malindi, M.J. 55	care-leavers 113–115, 114–115
Mamelani programme 56	see also disabled care-leavers,
1 0	methodological issues in interviewing;
maximum variation sampling 174	institutional ethnography, study
McCoy, L. 94, 95, 96, 98, 105	analysing experiences of disabled
McCreary Centre Society's Youth Research	care-leavers in Norway; institutional
Academy (YRA) 154, 155–156	ethnography, study of social workers'
McDermott, F. 135, 136, 139,	discretionary judgement about aftercare
173, 174	in Norway
McNeilly, P. 112, 119, 120, 123	NVivo software 175, 230
Mendes, P. 27, 53, 93, 111, 130, 131, 151,	0
206, 225, 226, 227
mental health 36, 53, 71, 206	Oelofsen, M. 55
disabilities and accessing aftercare	Oterholm, I. 97, 99, 100, 101, 102, 105, support 103–104, 116, 117	106, 112, 116

K
reciprocity capital 228, 232, 233, 236 recruitment
caring relationships to overcome difficulties in 160
of disabled care-leavers 117–119, 124
reimbursements for participants 138, 140, 175
and retention of participants 123–124, 133, 140
and sampling difficulties with
care-leavers 132–133
strategies 131–132
reflective learning and life lessons 62–63, 64 nurturing reflective learning in care setting 65–66
reflexivity 158
reimbursements for participants 138, 140, 175
research design 246
audience and influence 143 considering care during 150–153, 162 focus groups 140
inclusive research approach 120–121, 124, 134
models of inquiry 142–143
resource mapping 138, 139, 142 residential out-of-home care in Australia, stability in 7, 169–187
connections between stability/instability and outcomes 171–173, 183
data analysis 175–176
fundamental elements of stability 177–182
casual staff 179–180, 182
co-resident stability 179, 182 and implications for practice 182–183, 184–185
ongoing staff contact 181 safety 180–181, 184
staff consistency 177–178
training and supervision 181–182 future research 183
literature review 169–170
methodology 173
need for positive relationships 178, 179, 181, 183, 184
out-of-home care 169
participants 169, 176–177
placement 'instability' 170, 171–172, 173, 183
placement numbers, stability based on 170, 171, 184
previous operationalisation of stability in
out-of-home care 170–171, 184
sampling and data collection 173–175 security, feeling of 171, 182–183 vignettes of typical experiences 175, 184

resilience	Snowden, L.B. 1/0, 1/1
building 226, 237	social capital 223, 226-227
LGBTQIA+ youth foster-care-leavers	functions 228 , 239–240
72–74, 80, 82, 83	social capital, impact on care-leaver against suicidal thoughts and acts 217	transitions in Australia 8, 223–242 theory 56–57, 75–76	case descriptions 230–231 typology of care-leavers 189–190	conceptual framework 223-229 resilience processes of street-connected	concepts of social capital and social children in South Africa 6, 53–70, 245	support 226–227, 227 , 228 , 239–240 comparing levels of resilience to	developmental and environmental care-leavers without street	resources 228 experience 63, 64–65	integrated 227, 224 domains of resilience 59–63	typology of care-leaver resilience implications for care settings 65–66	226, 239
literature review 54–56
	youth to adulthood transition 225 methodology 57–59	getting by and getting ahead 238–239 networking people for resources 61–62,	methodology 229–230
64, 65	policy recommendations 240
participants 57–58	role of informal social capital 231–238 reflective learning and life lessons	accessing developmental and 62-63, 64	environmental resources 232, 240
safe, collaborative 'family' groups 59–61,	emotional and behavioural development
63–64	and social presentation 235–236 theoretical lens 56–57	emotional and behavioural resource mapping 138–142, 138	development, social relationships and funding 140	health 232–233 participants 140–142	family-like relationships and reflection questions 141	identity 233–234
staff 139–140
Stall 137-140	nousing, family relationships, time 139	housing, family relationships, identity 235 identity 235
time 139	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills,
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61,	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140,	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 15–16, 18, 19, 20, 22–23,	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212 social media a catalyst for LGBTQIA+
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 15–16, 18, 19, 20, 22–23, 23, 24, 25, 27–28, 30	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212 social media a catalyst for LGBTQIA+ youth resilience 74
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 15–16, 18, 19, 20, 22–23, 23, 24, 25, 27–28, 30 self-esteem scale 15	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212 social media a catalyst for LGBTQIA+ youth resilience 74 social model of disability 112, 113
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 15–16, 18, 19, 20, 22–23, 23, 24, 25, 27–28, 30 self-esteem scale 15 self-harm 207, 214	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212 social media a catalyst for LGBTQIA+ youth resilience 74 social model of disability 112, 113 social norms and expected behaviour 228,
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 15–16, 18, 19, 20, 22–23, 23, 24, 25, 27–28, 30 self-esteem scale 15 self-harm 207, 214 self-identities and disassociation with	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212 social media a catalyst for LGBTQIA+ youth resilience 74 social model of disability 112, 113 social norms and expected behaviour 228, 235, 238, 239
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 15–16, 18, 19, 20, 22–23, 23, 24, 25, 27–28, 30 self-esteem scale 15 self-harm 207, 214 self-identities and disassociation with disability 118–119	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212 social media a catalyst for LGBTQIA+ youth resilience 74 social model of disability 112, 113 social norms and expected behaviour 228, 235, 238, 239 social relational model of
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 15–16, 18, 19, 20, 22–23, 23, 24, 25, 27–28, 30 self-esteem scale 15 self-harm 207, 214 self-identities and disassociation with disability 118–119 Shneidman, E.S. 214	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212 social media a catalyst for LGBTQIA+ youth resilience 74 social model of disability 112, 113 social norms and expected behaviour 228, 235, 238, 239 social relational model of disability 112, 113
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 15–16, 18, 19, 20, 22–23, 23, 24, 25, 27–28, 30 self-esteem scale 15 self-harm 207, 214 self-identities and disassociation with disability 118–119 Shneidman, E.S. 214 Skehill, C. 211, 212	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212 social media a catalyst for LGBTQIA+ youth resilience 74 social model of disability 112, 113 social norms and expected behaviour 228, 235, 238, 239 social relational model of disability 112, 113 social relationships 201, 232, 237
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 15–16, 18, 19, 20, 22–23, 23, 24, 25, 27–28, 30 self-esteem scale 15 self-harm 207, 214 self-identities and disassociation with disability 118–119 Shneidman, E.S. 214 Skehill, C. 211, 212 Smith, A. 153, 154, 155	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212 social media a catalyst for LGBTQIA+ youth resilience 74 social model of disability 112, 113 social norms and expected behaviour 228, 235, 238, 239 social relational model of disability 112, 113 social relationships 201, 232, 237 emotional and behavioural development,
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 15–16, 18, 19, 20, 22–23, 23, 24, 25, 27–28, 30 self-esteem scale 15 self-harm 207, 214 self-identities and disassociation with disability 118–119 Shneidman, E.S. 214 Skehill, C. 211, 212	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212 social media a catalyst for LGBTQIA+ youth resilience 74 social model of disability 112, 113 social norms and expected behaviour 228, 235, 238, 239 social relational model of disability 112, 113 social relationships 201, 232, 237 emotional and behavioural development, health and 232–233
time 139 retention of participants in longitudinal studies 123–124, 133, 140 risk and responsibility, sharing 60–61 S safety concerns of gatekeepers 151–152 forming groups for protection and 59–61, 63–64 and sense of stability in residential out-of-home care 180–181, 184 trauma-informed care and 81, 134, 140, 142–143, 144 sampling 173–174 Schofield, G. 169, 211 self-esteem and wellbeing in unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 15–16, 18, 19, 20, 22–23, 23, 24, 25, 27–28, 30 self-esteem scale 15 self-harm 207, 214 self-identities and disassociation with disability 118–119 Shneidman, E.S. 214 Skehill, C. 211, 212 Smith, A. 153, 154, 155	identity 235 informal adult support as crucial for care-leavers 238 informal social capital and social support of value to all care-leavers 236–237 self-care and independent living skills, income and identity 234 social relationships 232 social constructionism 38, 40 social experiences, access to normative 236–237 social integration street-connected care-leavers and barriers to 46–47, 48, 49 suicidal intentions and lack of 209, 215 unaccompanied migrant care-leavers 28 social isolation 209, 211–212 social media a catalyst for LGBTQIA+ youth resilience 74 social model of disability 112, 113 social norms and expected behaviour 228, 235, 238, 239 social relational model of disability 112, 113 social relationships 201, 232, 237 emotional and behavioural development,

Index

social support	ongoing contact with 181
definitions of social support actions 227, 227	training and supervision 181–182 digital contact as a source of 30, 243-244	resources for research projects and getting by and getting ahead 238-239	139 – 140, 141 informal adult support crucial for all	Stein, M. xiii, 45, 130, 131, 133, 144, 188,
care-leavers 238	189, 206, 209, 226, 229, 238, 239
informal adult support valuable to all	stigma 113, 118, 134, 199, 246 care-leavers 236–237	street-connected care-leavers in Bolivia 5, and links to likelihood of suicidal	35–52, 244–245 abrupt transfer to adult life 41–42, 47 thoughts 208, 212, 213
networks for LGBTQIA+ foster-care-	addressing systemic failures in transition leavers 71–72, 73–74, 80–81	to adulthood 47–49 perceived burdensomeness due to	lack of aftercare support 37, 42–44, 47–48 poor 212, 213	lack of family of social support 44–45, 47–48
a protective factor for care-leavers 226	methodology 38–41
street-connected care-leavers and 44–45,	data collection and analysis 39–40
45–46, 47–48	ethical issues 40–41
see also aftercare support for care-leavers;	participants 38–39, 39 emotional support; social capital, impact	physical appearance hindering social on care-leaver transitions in Australia	reintegration 46–47, 48 social workers' discretionary judgement	research context 37–38 about aftercare in Norway 97, 98–102	social networks 45-46, 48
the experience 98–100	traditional policy approaches 35 identifying institutional	training programmes 42, 43
processes 100–101	street-connected care-leavers in South Africa, investigating institutional	resilience processes of 6, 53–70, 245 processes 101–102	comparing levels of resilience to Norwegian context 96–97	care-leavers without street ways institutional ethnography benefits	experience 63, 64–65
the study 107–108	domains of resilience 59–63 socio-ecological framework for suicide	implications for care settings 65–66 theories 214–216, 217	literature review 54–56
socio-ecological suicide prevention	methodology 57–59
model 216	networking people for resources 61–62, sociological suicide theory 215	64, 65
South Africa	participants 57–58
designing an inclusive research	reflective learning and life lessons 62–63, 64 approach 120	safe, collaborative 'family' groups 59–61, homeless care-leavers 36	63–64
overview of study with disabled	theoretical lens 56–57 care-leavers 113-115, 114-115	'strugglers', care-leaver 131, 133, 190, policies on care-leavers and disabled	206, 226 care-leavers 116–117	suicidal ideation, addressing safety concerns see also disabled care-leavers,	in project on 151–152
methodological issues in interviewing;	suicide prevention model, street-connected care-leavers in South	socio-ecological 216
Africa, resilience processes of	suicide risk among care-leavers,
Spain see unaccompanied migrant young	understanding 8, 204–222 people (UMYP) leaving care in Spain	approach 210–211 stability in residential out-of-home care in	Interpersonal-Psychological Theory of Australia see residential out-of-home Suicide 205, 208–209, 209–210, 210 care in Australia, stability in	Interpersonal-Psychological Theory of stability of time spent in care,	Suicide, examples from leaving-care unaccompanied migrants 30	studies and links to 211–214
staff	acquired capability 213–214
residential out-of-care	perceived burdensomeness 212–213 casual 179–180, 182	thwarted belongingness 211–212 consistency and stability of	prevalence of suicidal ideation in placements 177–178	care-experienced adolescents 206-207

risk in early adulthood 205–207 socio-ecological perspective 214–216, 217 socio-ecological suicida provention	typology of care-leavers 131, 189–190, 206, 226, 239
socio-ecological suicide prevention model 216	U statistics on suicide attempts 207	Ucembe, S. 55 theories of suicide and links to	Uganda, street-involved children in 55 care-leavers 207-209	unaccompanied migrant young people
Sulimani-Aidan, Y. 27, 29, 206, 211, 213	(UMYP) leaving care in Spain 5, 13-34.
Support Systems Ecomap for LGBTQIA+	243–244
Youth 81	backgrounds and profiles 29
'survivors', care-leaver 190, 206,	future research 30–31
209, 226	independent living skills 16, 18, 20, 22,
Sweden, statistics on suicide attempts 207	25, 28–29, 30
T	method 14, 15–18
	data analysis 17
Talbot, D. 96, 100	instruments 15–16
Tanur, C. 55–56, 117	participants 15 procedure 16–17
Tarren-Sweeney, M. 170, 172 Taussig, H.N. 206	obstacles to legally remaining in terminology 252–253	Spain 14, 30 theories of leaving care 7–8, 247–250, 252	profiles and pathways into adulthood of blind spots as starting points 248–249	aftercare group 25–27 questioning and extending	psychosocial adaptation 18–24, 18, 19, understanding 249–250	20 , 21, 22 , 22, 23 , 24
re-conceptualisations 249	predicting 30
Thomas de Benitez, S.T. 35	research questions 15 thwarted belongingness (TB) 209, 210, 211–212	self-esteem and wellbeing 15–16, 18 , 19 , 20 , 22–23, 23 , 24, 25, 27–28, 30
time	Ungar, M. 56, 57, 72
available for research projects 139, 141	United Kingdom (UK) 36, 169 placements-over-time paradigm 170, 171	United States spent in childcare by unaccompanied	homeless care-leavers 36
migrant care-leavers 30	LGBTQIA+ youth
Tomlinson, P. 172	foster-care-leavers 73–74 placement stability studies 169, 171, 172 on needs and experiences of LGBTQIA+	suicidal ideation studies 206, 212
foster youth 78–79	unstable lives, living see instability in lives programmes for care-leavers 42, 43	of care-leavers in Denmark residential out-of-home care staff 181–182	V
transition to adulthood see adulthood,	Van Breda, A.D. 36, 54, 56, 57, 63, 64, transitioning to	65, 113, 116, 123, 226, 229, 237 trauma-informed care	Velasco, M.L. 45
for LGBTQIA+ care-leavers 81–82	Vinnerljung, B. 204, 207
for participants and researchers 150–151	visual life-maps 120 trauma-informed research with 'hard to	voices of young people 135, 144, 149, reach' care-leavers in Australia 7, 129–147, 246	155, 160, 162 W adaptive participation model 129–130, 136–144	Wadman, R. 214
audience and influence 143–144	Wong, N.T. 135, 136 modes of inquiry 142–143	Υ
resource mapping 138–142, 138, 141
care populations 130	youth participation theory 133–134, Indigenous children in care 130 participatory and empowering	135–136, 143 Youth Research Academy (YRA) 155–156 methodologies 133–136
recruitment and sampling	Z
difficulties 132–133	Zimbabwe, street-involved children in 56
	,