

About the Authors

Ursula Kilkelly is Professor of Law at the School of Law, University College Cork, Ireland, where she teaches international children's rights and juvenile justice. Ursula has authored nearly 100 publications, including several monographs, edited collections, journal articles and book chapters on children's rights and youth justice, and is currently co-editor of Youth Justice: An International Journal. Ursula has consistently sought to use her international research and her leadership roles to bring about progressive change in the implementation of children's rights. In 2016, Ursula was a government-appointed chair of the Board of Management of Oberstown Children Detention Campus and she was re-appointed for a second term in 2019.

Pat Bergin was the first Director of Oberstown Children Detention Campus 2013–20. During this time he used his skills, knowledge and experience to develop and integrate Ireland's national detention facility for children, expanding the service, modernizing social care practices and bringing about enormous change as part of an evolving youth justice system. Pat took up the post as Head of the National Forensic Mental Health Service with the HSE in November 2020. He has qualifications in social care and management (EMBA) from Waterford Institute of Technology, and has worked in social care and social care regulation for more than 30 years.