

TABLES

1. Pearl-fishing around the Persian Gulf and southern Arabia in Arabic, Persian, Chinese, and European sources to ca. 1500 (Map 20)
2. Names for pearl in Indo-Āryan languages (Map 21)
3. Names for pearl in Dravidian languages (Map 21)
4. Names for pearl in the Indonesian subgroup of the Malayo-Polynesian or Austronesian family (Map 21)
5. Representations of pearls in India and Sri Lanka (Map 13)
6. Pearl-fishing and pearls among products of overseas regions in Chinese accounts before ca. 1500 (Map 24)
7. Towns with merchants trading in pearls in Chinese accounts before ca. 1500 (Map 24)
8. Pearls in overseas tribute to China (Map 24)
9. Reports of Spondylus spp. at archaeological sites in the New World (Map 32)
10. Reports of Pteria spp. and Pinctada spp. at archaeological sites in the New World (Map 34)
11. Names for pearl in the aboriginal languages of Middle, Central, and South America (Map 35)
12. Reports of pearls at archaeological sites in the New World (Map 34)