

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Thanks are due to many people for help received in preparing this catalogue. The librarians of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia, the Free Library of Philadelphia, the Library Company of Philadelphia and the Library of Congress were most generous with their help, and I thank them. I also thank Dr. James E. McClellan III for information pertaining to the maps of St. Domingue (Haiti). The most thanks are due to the entire staff of the American Philosophical Society, but especially to Librarian Edward C. Carter II for his continued interest in this project; and to Beth Carroll-Horrocks, Manuscript Librarian; Marian Christ, Cataloguer; David Rhees, Assistant Librarian for Research and Programs; and Hildegard Stephans, Associate Librarian. At times I thought I must have worn out my welcome with the latter five, but they remained unfailingly pleasant and helpful. Much of the design of the format for these entries was the result of their interest in my work and in the future use of this volume.
