
Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
William J. Collins and Robert A. Margo

I. BUSINESS ORGANIZATION AND INTERNAL GOVERNANCE

1. Revisiting American Exceptionalism: Democracy and the Regulation of Corporate Governance: The Case of Nineteenth-Century Pennsylvania in Comparative Context	25
Naomi R. Lamoreaux
2. Corporate Governance and the Development of Manufacturing Enterprises in Nineteenth-Century Massachusetts	73
Eric Hilt
Comment: Claudia Rei
3. The Evolution of Bank Boards of Directors in New York, 1840–1950	107
Howard Bodenhorn and Eugene N. White

II. BANK BEHAVIOR AND CREDIT MARKETS

4. Did Railroads Make Antebellum US Banks More Sound?	149
Jeremy Atack, Matthew S. Jaremski, and Peter L. Rousseau

5. Sources of Credit and the Extent of the Credit Market: A View from Bankruptcy Records in Mississippi, 1929–1936	179
Mary Eschelbach Hansen

III. SCALE ECONOMIES IN NINETEENTH-CENTURY PRODUCTION

6. Economies of Scale in Nineteenth-Century American Manufacturing Revisited: A Resolution of the Entrepreneurial Labor Input Problem	215
Robert A. Margo
7. Were Antebellum Cotton Plantations Factories in the Field?	245
Alan L. Olmstead and Paul W. Rhode
Contributors	277
Author Index	279
Subject Index	285