

Acknowledgments

Since many of these chapters collected here contained acknowledgments in their original form, I won't recapitulate all of my thanks, except to express my heartfelt gratitude to all those who offered help and advice along the way: interlocutors, friends, colleagues, anonymous readers, and editors. Thanks are also due to various editors and others who requested the chapters included here, as well as to audiences who first heard them as presentations.

But a few of these chapters are new. I would like to thank Wim van der Meer and other participants at the International Conference on Cultural Musicology: Premises, Practices, and Prospects at the University of Amsterdam in 2014 for useful comments and queries on an early version of chapter 1. And I would like to thank Jonathan Sterne and Steven Feld for putting me on the path of the value literature, and Steve and Jessica Cattelino for reading a draft of chapter 10, "Valuing Music," and offering extremely helpful comments. Audiences at conferences at the University of Agder, Norway, the University of Hong Kong, the University of London, and the University of Toronto also provided useful feedback on this chapter.

I would like to single out a few individuals, friends, and colleagues, and those who recommended readings or who were kind enough to read something of mine or who served as an interlocutor: Steve Feld, Robert Fink, Lila Ellen Gray, Jocelyne Guilbault, Tamara Levitz, Brent Luvaas, Louise Meintjes, Ana María Ochoa, David Novak, Anthony Seeger, Jonathan Sterne, Martin Stokes, and Bob W. White.

I would also like to thank all those students who have listened to me speak on the various subjects collected here, and those who took classes on particular subjects that some of these chapters represent.

Gratitude also must be expressed to the members of the “Anthropology Salon” at UCLA, a great group and resource: Hannah Appel, Andrew Apter, Aomar Boum, Philippe Bourgois, Jessica Cattelino, Akhil Gupta, Laurie Hart, Chris Kelty, Gail Kligman, Purnima Mankekar, Sherry B. Ortner, and Shannon Speed.

Thanks also must go to my editor and friend Douglas Mitchell at the University of Chicago Press, who first expressed enthusiasm for this collection. I would also like to thank all of the other good people at the Press who helped with this book: Joseph Claude, Jenni Fry, Ryan Li, Ashley Pierce, and Kyle Wagner. Thanks also go to copy editor Marianne Tatom.

Finally, I would like to thank Sherry B. Ortner, my life partner, for her constant inspiration, encouragement, and support. This book is dedicated to her.
