

CONTENTS

Introduction IX
Acknowledgments XXIII

PART I: The Social Gospel and Niebuhrian Realism

- 1 Society as the Subject of Redemption: Washington Gladden, Walter Rauschenbusch, and the Social Gospel 3
- 2 Reinhold Niebuhr, Karl Barth, and the Crises of War and Capitalism 29
- 3 The Niebuhrian Legacy: Christian Realism as Theology, Social Ethics, and Public Intellectualism 46
- 4 Ironic Complexity: Reinhold Niebuhr, Billy Graham, Modernity, and Racial Justice 66

PART II: Economic Democracy in Question

- 5 Norman Thomas and the Dilemma of American Socialism 87
- 6 Michael Harrington and the “Left Wing of the Possible” 111
- 7 Christian Socialism as Tradition and Problem 133

- 8 Breaking the Oligarchy: Globalization, Turbo-Capitalism,
Economic Crash, Economic Democracy 143
- 9 Rethinking and Renewing Economic Democracy 168
- PART III: Neoconservatism and American Empire
- 10 The Neoconservative Phenomenon: American Power and the War of Ideology 187
- 11 Imperial Designs: Neoconservatism and the Iraq War 214
- 12 Militaristic Illusions: The Iraq Debacle and the Crisis of American Empire 240
- 13 Empire in Denial: American Exceptionalism and the Community of Nations 259
- PART IV: Social Ethics and the Politics of Difference
- 14 The Feminist Difference: Rosemary R. Ruether and Eco-Socialist Christianity 289
- 15 Pragmatic Postmodern Prophecy: Cornel West as Social Critic and Public Intellectual 304
- 16 As Purple to Lavender: Katie Cannon and Womanist Ethics 336
- 17 Religious Pluralism as a Justice Issue: Catholicism, Protestantism,
Judaism, and Ecumenism 349
- 18 The Obama Phenomenon and Presidency 367
- 19 Social Ethics in the Making: History, Method, and White Supremacism 392
- Notes 411
- Index 475