

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS
TO THE THIRD EDITION

I AM INDEBTED TO Dr. James C. Hart, Director of the Restoration Center of the Veterans Administration Hospital in East Orange, New Jersey, for his willingness to share with me his philosophy of total restoration of the patient and for his careful reading of the portion of this edition describing the function of the Restoration Center.

Miss Barbara G. Schutt, R.N., editor of the American Journal of Nursing, was particularly helpful in contributing to my understanding of the present-day thinking regarding the educational requirement for nurses.

My thanks to Dr. Martin Cherkasky, Director of Montefiore Hospital of New York, and his staff for helping me get acquainted with the latest developments in medical care at the hospital.
