

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	PAGE
PREFACE . . . . .	7
CHAPTER I
Introduction, scope, purpose and methods of the study . . . . .	11
CHAPTER II
Roumanian immigrants, their number and character . . . . .	17
CHAPTER III
The home background of the Roumanian immigrants . . . . .	43
The Roumanians, Transylvanians and Roumanian Macedonians.
CHAPTER IV
The distribution of Roumanian immigrants in the United States.
Urban, rural, regional, occupational . . . . .	62
CHAPTER V
Living conditions and standards in the new country . . . . .	77
CHAPTER VI
The persistence of earlier ethnic contacts in the new life . . . . .	87
The beneficial and cultural societies. The Church; Greek Orthodox, Greek Catholic, Roumanian Baptist. The parochial school. The socialistic clubs. The press . . . . .	87
CHAPTER VII
The development of new community contacts. . . . .	118
The school, trade-union affiliations, political clubs.
CHAPTER VIII
The old culture and the new environment . . . . .	134
Survival and break-up of customs.
Adjustment and maladjustment.

	PAGE
CHAPTER IX
The principle of assimilation. The process of assimilation; economic, cultural, ethnic. . . . .	156
CHAPTER X
The first and second generation. Elasticity of the process of assimilation. Economic and cultural assimilation of Roumanian immigrants of first and second generation. Presentation of cases. The case of the non-assimilable. Age, illiteracy, absence of children or of family life a hindrance to assimilation. The question of intermarriage . . . . .	170
CHAPTER XI
Conclusions . . . . .	216
CHAPTER XII
Appendix: I. A study of one hundred Roumanian families in Chicago . . . . .	221
II. The names and addresses of the existing Roumanian Beneficial and Cultural Societies of America . . .	253
BIBLIOGRAPHY . . . . .	256
INDEX . . . . .	273