

CONTENTS

Preface xxv

Acknowledgments xxix

A Note on Transliteration xxxi

Chronology xxxiii

Thematic Table of Contents xli

List of Maps lvii

1. The Eighteenth Century: Ferment and Change 1

The Reorganization of Political Power 2

Aurangzeb: Letters to His Sons 4

Shah Wali-Allah: The Urgency of Political Instability 5

Iradat Khan: Decay at the Center of the Empire 7

Rebelling Against the Mughals: The Sikhs 8

Muhammad Qasim on Banda Bahadur's Sikh Army 9

The Sikh Religious Code: Lives of Discipline and Devotion 10

Marathas: Courtiers, Rebels, Raiders, and State Builders 11

The History of Khafi Khan and the Story of Tara Bai 12

Ahilya Bai Holkar: A Maratha Woman Ruler 13

- The Marathas as Raiders: A Bengali Perspective 14
Forts and War: The Essential Features of Any Kingdom 15
The Reality of War for a Common Soldier 16
The Chronicle of Bhausaheb: Defeat in 1761 of the Marathas at Panipat 16

Tipu Sultan: Visionary Ruler of Mysore 18

The Influence of Commerce 20

- Bankers and Traders: The Powers Behind the Thrones* 21
“Business Men are the Glory and Ornament of the Kingdom” 22
Ananda Ranga Pillai: Merchant and Agent of the French 23
Ghulam Husain Khan: The Nawab of Bengal, the Marathas, and the Jagat Seths 24
Abu Talib: Cultural Comparisons, India Versus the West 26

On the Margins of Power 27

- The Sannyāsī Uprising* 28
Himmat Bahadur, the People’s Hero 29

Religious Expressions, Devotional and Intellectual 30

- Ramprasad Sen: Singing to the Goddess in Bengal* 31
The Poetry of Nagaridas: Krishna Devotion in Vrindavan 33
Tyagaraja: Telegu Composer and Poet 35
Dayaram of Gujarat: Unchanging Devotion in a Changing World 37
Muddupalani: A Telegu Poet Advises Krishna How to Make Love 39
Shah Abd ul-Latif: Sufism in Sindh 41
Bullhe Shah: Neither Hindu nor Muslim 43
Waris Shah: Mystics and Lovers 45
Khwaja Mir Dard: Pain and Poetry 46
Shah Wali Allah and the Reconciliation of Difference 46

- A General Approach to Legal Interpretation 47
The Causes for Disagreement Among the Schools of the Jurists 48
The Need for a Religion Which Abrogates the Other Religions 49

“Revolution in Bengal”: The East India Company 51

- The Nawab of Bengal: “I Have No Remedy”* 52
Richard Becher: “This Fine Country is Verging towards its Ruin” 53
Shah Abd ul-Aziz: Islam in Danger 54

Harsukh Rai’s Epitaph for the Eighteenth Century: Recognition of the Winners and Losers 55

2. The Early to Mid Nineteenth Century: Debates Over Reform and Challenge to Empire 57

Henry Derozio: Poet and Educator 60

Letter Protesting His Dismissal 61

Poem to India 62

The Decision to Introduce English Education 62

Sir William Jones: The Orientalist Viewpoint 63

Preface to the Grammar of the Persian Language 64

Rammohan Roy and the Uselessness of Orientalist Policies 65

A Letter on Education 67

Thomas Babington Macaulay and the Case for English Education 68

Speech to Parliament on the Government of India Bill 68

The Minute on Education 69

Rammohan Roy: Pioneer in East-West Exchange 72

How the British Took Control of India 73

The Need for a More Humane Morality and a Purer Mode of Worship 73

Hinduism Is Not Inferior to Christianity 74

In Defense of Hindu Women 75

For Freedom of the Press 77

The Future of India 78

Ishvarchandra Vidyasagar: Social Reformer and Champion of Women's Rights 79

Arguments for the Compassionate Treatment of Girls and Women 80

Nilakantha Goreh: A Traditional Pandit Takes on the Missionaries 83

Doubts Concerning Christianity 84

Rassundari Devi: The First Bengali Autobiographer Looks Back on a Restricted Life 86

Learning to Read 86

Bibi Ashraf: A Young Muslim Girl Struggles to Educate Herself 90

Learning to Write 91

Mirza Asadullah Khan Ghalib: Do Not Worship the Dead 94

Refusing Sir Sayyid Ahmad Khan 94

The Indian Rebellion of 1857: Deliberations, Fatalities, and Consequences 96

An Attempted Mughal Restoration: The Azamgarh Proclamation 98

The Rani of Jhansi: An Eyewitness Account 101

Bahadur Shah: The Last Days of the Last Mughal Emperor 106

Ghalib's Delhi Diary: Storm and Turmoil 108

Bahadur Shah's Defense 109

Queen Victoria's Proclamation, November 1, 1858 110

Sir Sayyid Ahmad Khan on the Causes of the Mutiny 112

Can Muslims Live in a Christian State? Ulema Who Speak for the British in 1871 116

Sir William Wilson Hunter: Decisions of Ulema in Mecca, Lucknow, and Rampur 117

3. The Later Nineteenth Century: Leaders of Reform and Revival 120

Debendranath Tagore: Renewer of the Brahmo Samaj 122

The Conflict Between Sanskrit and Western Education 123

The Call to Renunciation, and a Decisive Dream 124

The Brahmo Samaj and Its Relation to Orthodox Hinduism 125

Keshab Chandra Sen and the Indianization of Christianity 126

Loyalty to the British Nation 128

The Asiatic Christ 129

An Indian National Church 130

A New Sacramental Ceremony 131

Dayanand Sarasvati: Vedic Revivalist 131

Awakening Against Idolatry 132

Critique of Islam 132

A Debate with a Christian 134

The Virtues of Europeans 135

Against the Hindu Reform Movements of the Nineteenth Century 136

Shri Ramakrishna: Mystic and Spiritual Teacher 136

- The First Encounter with Kālī* 137
Meeting Jesus 138
The Deification of Ramakrishna's Wife 139
With the Brahma Samaj 140

Swami Vivekananda: Hindu Missionary to the West 141

- Sisters and Brothers of America* 142
Man Is God 143
Image Worship Has a Place 143
The Kindergartens of Religion 144
Vivekananda and His Master 144
The Origins, Rationale, and Degradation of Caste 145
India and the West 146
Modern India 146

Sir Sayyid Ahmad Khan: Enlightened Islam in a British Context 147

- Lessons from London* 149
The Importance of Modern Western Education 150
Hindu-Muslim Peaceful Coexistence Possible Only Under British Rule 151

Amir Ali and “The Spirit of Islam” 152

- Islam as an Ethical Spirit That Is Beneficial for Women* 153

Mahadev Govind Ranade: Pioneer Maharashtrian Reformer 156

- Revivalism Versus Reform* 157

Jotirao Phule: Radical Reformer 160

- The Tyranny of a Brahman-Dominated History* 161
Letter to Mahadev Govind Ranade 164

Pandita Ramabai Sarasvati: Pioneering Feminist and Reformer 165

- The Plight of Indian Women* 166
An Autobiographical Account 169

Tarabai Shinde and a Feminist Defense of Women 171

- The Treachery of Men* 171

D. K. Karve and Anandibai Karve: Living with Widow Remarriage 173

Marrying a Widow: Memoirs 174

Ashraf Ali Thanawi: Instructing the Respectable Muslim Woman 177

The Evils of Going Out 177

Nagendrabala Dasi and the New Companionate Marriage 180

Advice for a New Patriarchy 181

4. Liberal Social and Political Thought in the Late Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Century: The Moderates 183

Dadabhai Naoroji: Architect of Indian Nationalism 187

The Pros and Cons of British Rule 188

The Blessings of British Rule 191

The Moral Impoverishment of India 192

Sir Surendranath Banerjea: Bengali Moderate 194

The Need for Indian Unity 195

Faith in England 197

Faith in Social Progress 198

Mahadev Govind Ranade: Economic Proposals 199

India's Need: State Guidance of Economic Development 199

Hindu-Muslim Cooperation 202

Gopal Krishna Gokhale: Servant of India 203

Taxation Without Representation 204

Improving the Lot of Low-Caste Hindus 205

The Servants of India Society 208

Romesh Chunder Dutt: Pioneer Economic Historian 210

The Causes of India's Poverty 211

Sir Sayyid Ahmed Khan: An Anti-Congress Speech 216

The Indian National Congress as a Danger and a Folly 216

Badruddin Tyabji and Rahmatullah Sayani: Why Muslims Should Join the Congress 224

The Congress Presidential Address by Tyabji 225

The Congress Presidential Address of Sayani 229

Rokeya Sakhawat Hossain: A Feminist Utopia and the Challenge to Women's Seclusion 237

Men in the Zenana 238

The Secluded Ones: Stories of Purdah 240

Cornelia Sorabji: India's First Woman Barrister 241

Advocating for Women 242

Sarojini Naidu: Congress Nightingale and Champion of Women's Rights 246

Equality of Sexes 247

5. Radical Politics and Cultural Criticism, 1880–1914:

The Extremists 250

Bankim Chandra Chatterjee: Nationalist Author 252

Hail to the Mother 254

Bal Gangadhar Tilak: "Father of Indian Unrest" 262

The Gītā Versus the Penal Code 264

The Tenets of the New Party 265

Agitation Against the Bengal Partition and for Swadeshi: The Position of Surendranath Banerjea 268

Swadeshi in the Air 268

Aurobindo Ghose: Mystic Patriot 271

The Doctrine of Passive Resistance 272

The Morality of Boycott 279

Nationalism Is the Work of God 280

India's Mission: The Resurrection of Hinduism 281

Sarala Devi Chaudhurani and the Revival of Revolutionary Feeling 282

Reminiscences Political and Personal 283

The Development of Linguistic Consciousness: Hindi vs. Urdu 287

[Vakil Ratnachand]: Hindi and Urdu in the Courtroom 287

Lala Lajpat Rai: “Lion of the Punjab” 289

An Open Letter to Sayyid Ahmad Khan 291

Reform Versus Revival 293

The Coming Political Struggle 294

Untouchability Must Go 296

Addressing the British Public 297

Why India Is in Revolt Against British Rule 299

Rabindranath Tagore: Poet, Educator, and India’s
Ambassador to the World 301

“The Exercise Book” 303

Tagore’s Congress “Presidential Address” 307

“The Problem of India” 310

Where the Mind Is Without Fear 313

The Renunciation of Renunciation 314

To Yone Noguchi 314

The Sunset of the Century 317

Muhammad Iqbal: Poet and Philosopher of Islam 318

Songs for Children 320

Indian Song 321

Song of the Religious Community 321

Love 322

Time 323

Muslims Are One in Soul 323

The Need for Understanding Islam in the Light of Modern Knowledge 324

From Prophecy to Individual Judgment of One’s Inner and

Outer Experience 325

Muslim Legislatures as a Means for the Evolution of Islamic Law 326

Fragments from Kashmir 327

Art for the Nation 328*Art and Swadeshi: The Contribution of Ananda Coomaraswamy* 329

Swadeshi: True and False 329

The “Oriental Art” of Abanindranath Tagore 332

When Artists Can Take Liberty 332

The Death-knell of Orientalist Art: Amrita Sher-Gil and the “True” India 335

My Destiny as a Painter 335

6. Mahatma Gandhi and Responses 338*WRITINGS OF MAHATMA GANDHIHind Swaraj and the Proper Relationship Between Means and End, Power, and Freedom 345*A Disagreement with B. G. Tilak Over Swaraj 349*Gandhi Before the British: At the Disorders Inquiry Committee of 1920 350*The Crime of Chauri Chaura 355*The Great Trial: March 1922 357*Constructive Work in the Mid 1920s 360Hindu-Muslim Tension, Its Cause and Cure:Tired of Non-Violence 360Untouchability and Swaraj 362The Sin of Untouchability 363Untouchability, Women, and Swaraj 364The Salt Satyagraha of 1930: The Letter to Lord Irwin 365*From the Gandhi-Irwin Pact to Quit India 369*Gandhi’s Responses to India’s Civil War in His Last Year 371*True Altruism 375

RESPONSES TO GANDHI

The Heir Apparent: Jawaharlal Nehru 376

“Be Not Afraid” 377
Salt, the Word of Power 381

Sarojini Naidu: Colleague and Devotee 384

The First Meeting 384
The Rowlatt Bills Controversy 385
Gandhi—My Master 386

The Challenge of Rabindranath Tagore 387

Non-Cooperation as Political Asceticism 388
“The Call of Truth”: Tagore’s Critique of Gandhi 390
“The Great Sentinel”: Gandhi’s Response to Tagore 393

Communist Responses to Gandhi 396

M. N. Roy’s Analysis of Gandhi’s “Reactionary” Movement 398
Rajani Palme Dutt: An Indian Communist’s View from Britain 402

Muslim Responses to the Mahatma: Mohamed and Shaukat Ali—Allies
Then Adversaries 407

Mohamed Ali: To Self-Government Through Hindu-Muslim Unity, Nonviolence, and Sacrifice 409

Mohandas Gandhi: Response to the Ali Brothers’ Critique 411

Terrorism Versus Non-violence 414

A Manifesto Against Gandhi, the Impossible Visionary 415
Gandhi’s Reply: The Cult of the Bomb 416
Kartar Singh’s Rejoinder: “The Philosophy of the Bombs” 418

The Gandhi-Ambedkar Debate 421

Bhimrao Ramji Ambedkar: The Evils of Caste 423
Mohandas Gandhi: Responses to Dr. Ambedkar’s Indictment 426

Periyar Responds to Gandhi on Caste 429

*On How Gandhi’s Program Initially Differed from Those of Other Congress
Leaders* 430
On Gandhi’s Lunacy or Strategy to Build Consensus at the Cost of Compromising His Commitment to Social Reform 431
On Gandhi’s Apotheosis and Assassination 431

Subhas Chandra Bose: Fervent Nationalist and Socialist 432*The Role of Mahatma Gandhi in Indian History* 434*Address to Mahatma Gandhi Over the Rangoon Radio on July 6, 1944* 437Nathuram Godse: Gandhi's Assassin 439Trial Speech* 440Nirad Chaudhuri's Critique of Gandhi's Non-Violence 443The Old and New Militarisms of Hindu History* 444Jayaprakash Narayan: From Marxist to Gandhian 446A Plea for a Communitarian Polity and Economy* 4487. To Independence and Partition 453*The Congress-Muslim League Scheme of Reforms, or Lucknow Pact, 1916 462*Sarojini Naidu: Hindus, Muslims, and Indian Unity 466In Support of the Lucknow Pact* 466*For the Evolution of National Life* 467Rabindranath Tagore on Hindus and Muslims 469A Letter to Kalidas Nag* 469The Bengal Pact: A Provincial Effort at Communal Rapprochement,
1923-1924 471*Lala Lajpat Rai: A Plan to Divide the Punjab and Bengal 473The Hindu-Muslim Problem, 1924* 473Vinayak Damodar Savarkar: Hindu Nationalist 483The Glories of the Hindu Nation* 484Muhammad Iqbal: Political Spokesman for India's Muslims 488A Separate State for Muslims Within India* 488*Letters to Jinnah* 491

Choudhary Rahmat Ali: Giving a Name to Pakistan 494

“The Fatherland of the Pak Nation” 494

Muhammad Ali Jinnah: Founder of Pakistan 496

“We Have to Live Together . . . We Have to Work Together” 499

Hindus and Muslims: Two Separate Nations 500

The Push Toward a New Muslim Nation 503

C. Rajagopalachari’s Approach to Congress-League Settlement, and the Gandhi-Jinnah Letters, 1944 505

Letter to M. A. Jinnah 505

The Gandhi-Jinnah Correspondence on Rajagopalachari’s Formula 507

G. D. Adhikari and the Views of the Communist Party of India 511

National Unity Now! 511

Subhas Chandra Bose: On the Rani of Jhansi Regiment and Congress-League Negotiations 518

“The Rani of Jhansi Regiment” 518

On the Gandhi-Jinnah Meeting 520

The Cabinet Mission, May 16, 1946, and Congress’s Response 522

The Last British Offer 522

Congress’s Response to the Plan 527

Dr. B. R. Ambedkar Considers Partition 528

Must There Be a Pakistan? 528

Gurbachan Singh and Lal Singh Gyani: The Sikhs’ Dilemma 536

Demanding a Sikh State 537

Sarat Chandra Bose Takes the Lead: Efforts for a United Bengal 542

Proposing a Bengal Free State 543

On the Mountbatten Plan 547

Lord Louis Mountbatten: Negotiations for Independence and Partition 549

Difficulties with Jinnah and the Imperceptible Nod 550

Jawaharlal Nehru: The Future Prime Minister of India Reflects 554*"A Time of Trial and Sorrow"* 554Mohandas Gandhi on Partition 556Speeches at Four Prayer Meetings in June–July, 1947* 556Abul Kalam Azad: Muslim Nationalist 560The Muslims of India and the Future of India* 561*The Steps to Partition* 563Begum Shaista Ikramullah: A Muslim League View of Partition 574Cherished Encounters with Jinnah* 574Urvashi Butalia: Survivors' Oral Accounts 583Stories of Flight, Abduction, and Honor Killing* 5838. Issues in Post-Independence India 591*Giving Birth to the Nation 594Rabindranath Tagore: India's National Anthem* 594*Prime Minister Nehru: India's "Tryst with Destiny"* 595Constituent Assembly, 1947–1950 596Dr. B. R. Ambedkar, Law Minister* 597

Defending the Nation 597

Looking to the Future in Light of the Past 598

The Constitution of India 600The Unity and Integrity of the Nation 604V. P. Menon and the Integration of the Indian States* 604*The States Reorganization Commission* 608*Self-Determination and Succession: Threats to Unity and Integrity* 611

Kashmir 611

THE TREATY OF AMRITSAR 611

INDIA'S APPEAL TO THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL 613

THE COUNCIL'S RESOLUTION 614

ARTICLE 370 OF THE CONSTITUTION 615

SHEIKH ABDULLAH: KASHMIRI PATRIOT 615
HOME MINISTER G. B. PANT: RETHINKING THE PLEBISCITE 617

Punjab 619

JARNAIL SINGH BHINDRANWALE'S CALL "FOR OUR FAITH, FOR THE SIKH NATION, FOR THE OPPRESSED" 619

Nagaland 621

A. Z. PHIZO: THE DEMAND FOR SELF-DETERMINATION 621

Democracy and Education 624

B. R. Ambedkar: Can Democracy Survive in India? 625
"Anonymous" on Nehru as Possible Dictator 626
The Rule of Indira Gandhi (1966–1977, 1980–1984) and the Emergency: Threats to Indian Democracy 627

Prime Minister Gandhi: Broadcast to the Nation 628

Prime Minister Gandhi: Promises for the Future and the Twenty-Point Program 630

J. P. Narayan: Total Revolution and Denouncing the Emergency 631
The Shah Commission: Report on the Emergency 633
Children, Education, Labor, and the State 635

Myron Weiner: Dialogues on Education 635

Prime Minister Manmohan Singh: The Fundamental Right of Children to Elementary Education 638

Amartya Sen: Democracy, Economic Development, and Human Rights 639

Socialism, Economic Development, and Poverty 644

Jawaharlal Nehru's Vision: Socialism and Its Alternatives 644

Government Action: The First Five-Year Plan, 1952 646

*Kamaladevi Chattopadhyaya: The Fusion of Socialism,
Nationalism, and Art* 648

Jagdish Bhagwati: The Results of Government Control of the Economy 649

Nandan Nilekani: India Entering a New Era of Growth 652

Mira Kamdar: Some Despair on Planet India 655

Toward Equality and Social Justice 659

Vinoba Bhave: Get Rid of Institutions 659

Communist Insurgencies: Telangana and Naxalbari 662

Leftward Move of the CPI, and the Telangana Rebellion 662

Uprising in Naxalbari: Declarations of the Revolutionaries 664

Ranajit Guha and the Subaltern School: Challenging Received Interpretations 668

Smitu Kothari: The Narmada Movement, National Planning, and Popular Resistance 670

The Continuing Oppressions of Caste 673

The Mandal Commission and the Other Backward Classes (OBCs) 673

Viramma: The Life of a Rural Dalit Woman 677

Kumud Pawde: A Dalit Women Professor Describes Her Professional Life 681

Kancha Ilaiah: The Shudra Critique of Hindu Cooption 685

Dalit Poems of Resistance, Rejection, and Hope for Reconciliation 688

Seeking Women's Rights: Fulfilling Constitutional Guarantees 690

Toward Equality: Report of the Committee on the Status of Women 691

Madhu Kishwar: Reality for Women in Politics 696

Asghar Ali Engineer: An Indian Muslim Reformer on the Plight of Women 698

Muslims in Post-Independence India 700

The Sachar Commission and Indian Muslims 701

Asghar Ali Engineer: A Muslim's Reactions to Sachar 705

Hindu Nationalism, Communalism, and Secularism 707

Jawaharlal Nehru's Last Will and Testament 708

S. P. Mookerjee: Hinduism Is "Synonymous with India's Widest National Aspirations" 709

The Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh: Defining Hindu Nationalism 710

M. S. Golwalkar: The Central Core of Nationhood 711

The Hindu Way of Life 711

Dharma Awakens the Common Inner Bond 712

The Dangers of Muslims, Christians, and Communists 713

Balraj Madhok: The Indianization of All Aspects of National Life 715

Bipan Chandra: What Is Communalism? 717

Mushirul Hasan: Secularism, Communalism, and the Religious Symbol of the Babri Masjid 718

The BJP Perspective: The Babri Masjid Was a Symbol of Conquest, Not Religion 719

Sumit Sarkar: Secularism, Nationalism, and the Right to Conversion 720

Arun Shourie: Missionaries in India 722

Cassette Culture and the Provocation of Religious Violence 723

Partha Chatterjee: Secularism and Tolerance 723
Aijaz Ahmad: The Rise and Power of the Hindu Right 727

Foreign Policy: Sovereignty 732

Prime Minister Nehru: Avoiding Foreign Entanglements 733
*Krishna Menon: Bandung, and the Origin and Meaning of the Term
“Non-Alignment”* 734
Prime Minister Nehru: The Betrayal of India by the Chinese 736
Prime Minister Indira Gandhi: India and the World 738
Nuclear Power and Foreign Policy: After 1974 742

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi: “Buddha Smiled” 742
Dr. Raja Rasmanna: “Noises of Protest” 744
Prime Minister A. B. Vajpayee: Evolution in India’s Nuclear Policy 745
Prime Minister Manmohan Singh: On the Nuclear Treaty with the United States 746

Postscript: Who Speaks for India? 748

Amartya Sen and the Indian Plurality of Identities 748

9. Pakistan, 1947 and After: The Struggle for National Identity 750

Birth of a Nation: Literary Reflections by Faiz Ahmad Faiz 753

1947–1958: Parliamentary Democracy and Islamic Identity 756

Visions of Pakistan 759

Muhammad Ali Jinnah: The Vision of Secular Pakistan 759
Liaquat Ali Khan: The Objectives Resolution 762
The Munir Report: Can There Be an Islamic State? 764
Sayyid Abul Ala Maududi: The Islamist Vision of an Islamic System 767

The Kashmir Dispute 774

Prime Minister Chaudhri Muhammad Ali: The Origins of the Dispute 774
Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan: The Cause of Freedom 776
Sir Muhammad Zafrulla Khan: Pakistan’s Reply to India’s Complaint to the United Nations 778
Pakistan’s Answer to the Security Council Resolution 780
American Ambassador Horace Hildreth: Pakistan Becomes a “Tolerable Risk” 780

1958–1971: The Hegemony of the Military 783

General Ayub Khan: Why Military Rule Was Necessary for Pakistan 783

General Ayub Khan: The Conservative Religious Perspective and the Modern State 785

The Yahya Military Regime and the Separation of East Pakistan 788

Zulfikar Ali Bhutto: The Great Tragedy 789

Hasan Zaheer: The Separation of East Pakistan 790

Asif Farrukhi: The 1971 War from a Child's Perspective in Pakistan 792

1972–1977: Civilian Rule by Zulfikar Ali Bhutto: Democracy and Islamic Socialism 795

Zulfikar Ali Bhutto: Marching Toward Democracy 796

Mahbub ul-Haq: 22 Families Own 66 Percent of Pakistan 797

Zulfikar Ali Bhutto: The Myth of Independence 800

Zulfikar Ali Bhutto: The Death Cell and History 801

1977–1988: Military Rule and Islamization: The Zia Years 803

General Zia: The Cold War Redux 804

The Women's Movement in Pakistan 805

The Muslim Family Laws Ordinance, 1961 805

Asma Jahangir and Hina Gilani: The Hudood Ordinances, 1979, and Opposition by Women's Activists 808

Farida Shaheed and Tahmina Rashid: Women and the Women's Movement in Pakistan 810

Kishwar Naheed and Fahmida Riaz: Mothers and Daughters, in Urdu Poetry 812

1988–1999: Restoration of Civilian Rule 815

Benazir Bhutto: The Return to Democracy 815

Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif: Nuclear Explosions 816

1999–2008: The Military Rule of General Pervez Musharraf and Its Later Civilianization 817

President Pervez Musharraf: A General Reflects 818

President Pervez Musharraf: The Symbiosis of Religion and Terrorism 819

Education in Pakistan 821

Shahid Javed Burki: Causes for a Deteriorating Educational System 822

Usman Ali Isani and Latif Virk: Education at All Levels:

The National Reports 823

Pervez Hoodbhoy: Religion, Science, and Education:

The Battle for Rationality 824

A. H. Nayyar: Religious Schools as Alternatives: The Madrasa Issue 826

2008 and Beyond: Questions of Pakistan's National Identity 829

10. Bangladesh: Independence and Controversies Over the Fruits of Freedom 833

Two National Songs 833

Rabindranath Tagore: The National Anthem 834

Kazi Nazrul Islam: "March on, March on, March on!" 834

The Formative Historical Context, 1905–1947 836

Life in East Pakistan, 1947–1971: Moving Toward the Split 838

The Language Movement 839

Dhirendra Nath Dutta's Historic Plea and Jinnah's Address in Dhaka 839

Abdul Gaffar Chaudhuri's Famous Elegy for the February 1952 Martyrs 840

Political Jockeying and the Redressing of Perceived Wrongs: 1952 to 1958 841

The Twenty-One Point Program of the United Front Party 842

The Argument for Joint Electorates 844

Huseyn Shaheed Suhrawardy: Speech Before the Dacca Provincial Assembly 844

The Transition to Military Rule and the Escalation of Bengali Nationalism: 1958 to 1971 846

Sheikh Mujib: The Awami League's Six Points 848

Moving Toward Civil War: The Horror, the Victory 850

JAHANARA IMAM'S WARTIME DIARY 852

POETIC LAMENTS: SHAMSUR RAHMAN, JASIM UDDIN, SUFIA KAMAL 858

After 1971: The Awami League Government and the Failure of an Ideal 862

Abul Masnur Ahmad: The Lahore Resolution Restored 862

Badruddin Umar: A Leftist Critique of the Constitution 864

Maulana Bhashani: Islamic Socialism and the Example of Mao Tse Tung 866

Nirmalendu Goon: Lamenting the Fall of Sheikh Mujib 868

Military Rule and the Move to Bangladeshi Nationalism, Islamization, and the Rehabilitation of "Collaborators" 870

Syed Ali Ahsan: The Failed Chance of Pakistan 872

Ziaur Rahman: The Nineteen-point Program 873

Khondakar Abdul Hamid: Bengali Versus Bangladeshi Nationalism 874
Changes to the Constitution of Bangladesh 876
The Jamaat-e Islami and the Critique of Secularism 878

 Ghulam Azam: The Threat of a Secular West Bengal 879

The Defense of Secularism in Bangladesh 882

Maulana Bhashani Warns His Country 883
Anisuzzaman: A Statement for Secularism in Bangladesh 884

The Return to Democracy, and Continuing Challenges for Civil Society 887

The Chittagong Hill Tracts and the Defiance of “National Integrity” 889

 Jana Samhati Samiti: The Chittagong Hill Tracts Guidelines 890

Literary Critiques of Bangladeshi Society 891

 Taslina Nasrin and the Injustices of Abuse 891
 Humayun Azad: A Prayer for Forgiveness 893

Muhammad Yunus: Micro-credit and the Bangladeshi Miracle 895

Notes 899
Bibliography 909
Credits 925
Index 931

