

Contents

Preface	xi
Introduction	1
Play, Game, Sport	1
Models of Sports Heroism	6
PART ONE: PLAY, GAME, SPORT: CLASSIC AMERICAN LITERATURE	13
Chapter 1. Hawthorne: The Play Spirit	15
Creating the Fictional Arena	15
Play and the Dance of Death	18
The Scarlet Letter : The English Green	28
The Scarlet Letter : Hester and Pearl in Play and Freedom	32
Chapter 2. Sport and Society	38
Irving: Happy Valley	39
Cooper: Correct Conduct in Nature	44
Thoreau: The Hunter and Higher Laws	53
PART TWO: THE POPULAR SPORTS HERO	57
Chapter 3. Sport and the Frontier	59
Agon and Alea : Competition and Chance	60
Southern and Backwoods Sport	63
The Almanac Hero: Crockett and Fink	65
William Porter and the Spirit of the Times	69
Southwestern Humor and Frontier Sport	73
Chapter 4. Organized Sport and Its Reporters	83
Transformation of Sport in Industrial America	83

Journalism and Popular Sport	92
Sport in the Dime Novel	100
Chapter 5. Lardner: The Popular Sports Hero		108
Lardner and Baseball	110
Lardner and Southwestern Humor Tradition	119
Lardner and 1920s Popular Culture	124
 PART THREE: THE SCHOOL SPORTS HERO		129
Chapter 6. The Incarnation of the College Athletic Hero		131
The College Athletic Hero in Fiction: Crane
Norris, Davis	141
Chapter 7. The Boys' School Sports Story		155
Thomas Hughes and Tom Brown	159
Gilbert Patten and Frank Merriwell	165
Ralph Henry Barbour, Owen Johnson, Jesse
Lynch Williams	171
Chapter 8. Fitzgerald: The School Sports Hero		180
Princeton and Amory Blaine	181
Yale and Tom Buchanan	190
Gatsby, Daisy and Ted Fay: the Football Metaphor	193
The Play Spirit: Gatsby and Dick Diver	199
Frank Chance's Diamond versus Hobey Baker's
Gridiron	203
Chapter 9. The School Sports Hero as Satiric Emblem: Hemingway and Faulkner		208
Robert Cohn: Princeton to Pamplona	210
Frank Merriwell in Frenchman's Bend	218
The School Sports Hero in Eclipse	224
 PART FOUR: THE MODERN RITUAL SPORTS HERO		229
Chapter 10. Hemingway: Exemplary Heroism and Heroic Witnessing		231
Playing the Real and the Sacred	231
Hemingway: The Solitary Sportsman	237
The Sun Also Rises : Varieties of Sports Experience	240
Exemplary Heroism: Pedro Romero
and Juan Belmonte	246
Heroic Witnessing: Jake Barnes	251
Boxing and Hard Times: Hemingway's
Stoic Veterans	254

Contents

ix

Chapter 11. Faulkner: The Play Spirit	262
Sartoris, The Unvanquished : Play and War	265
The Hamlet : Performing Their Nature	273
The Hamlet : Games and Ritual	276
The Hamlet : Play and Freedom	282
Chapter 12. Sports Approaches the Sacred: Hemingway and Faulkner	291
Santiago: The Gulf Stream and Heroic Resignation	293
Ike McCaslin: Engagement and Renunciation	296
Santiago and Ike McCaslin: The Last Hunters	305
Conclusion	311
Notes	319
Index	361

