

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

	PAGE
§ 1. Introduction	9
PART I. GENERAL STATISTICS OF DIVORCE.
§ 2. Comparison between the United States and other countries	11
§ 3. Rate of increase	12
§§ 4, 5. Two possibilities of error	13-14
§ 6. Increase with reference to courts granting divorce . .	15
§ 7. Increase with reference to the population	16
§ 8. Increase with reference to married couples	16
§ 9. Increase with reference to its possible outcome . . .	19
§ 10. Increase among the negroes	21
§ 11. Increase in the several states	22
§ 12. Duration of marriage before divorce	23
§ 13. Remarriage after divorce	26
Distribution of Divorce :
§ 14. Between natives and foreign born	28
§ 15. Between Catholics and non-Catholics	29
§ 16. Between negroes and whites	29
§ 17. Between city and country	32
§ 18. Between couples with children and without	33
§ 19. As granted to husband or wife	34
§ 20. Among the several states	37
PART II. INFLUENCE OF LEGISLATION ON DIVORCE.
§ 21. Problem and method	41
§ 22. Legal causes of divorce	41
§ 23. Comparison of number of causes with divorce rate . .	44

	PAGE
§ 24. Changes of law	47
§ 25. Introducing causes	48
§ 26. Repealing causes	49
§ 27. Modifying causes or procedure	50
§ 28. Of greater complexity	52
§ 29. More radical European changes	55
§ 30. Affecting the expense of divorce	58
§ 31. Introducing uniformity in Switzerland	59
§ 32. Restricting marriage	60
§ 33. Summary of results	61
 PART III. CAUSES AND REMEDY.
§ 34. Basis and character of conclusions	62
§ 35. Two conceptions of marriage law	62
§ 36. The popularization of law	63
§ 37. Laxity in changing and administering the law	64
§ 38. Age of marriage	65
§ 39. The emancipation of women	66
§ 40. Growth of cities	68
§ 41. Increase of industrialism	68
§ 42. The spread of discontent	70
§ 43. Two ideals of the family	71
§ 44. The remedy	72