

Acknowledgments	xi
1. Borderland Culture Region	1
2. Land beyond the Nueces	9
3. Territory Shaped	23
4. Homeland Forged	43
5. Texas Mexican Spaces	63
6. Texas Mexican Small Towns	94
7. Texas Mexican Cities	129
8. Texas Mexican Social Identities	161
9. Tejano Cultural Province	189
Notes	205
References	233
Figure Sources	259
Index	263

Contents

LIST OF FIGURES

2.1	Environmental framework of South Texas	12
2.2	Travelers' routes across South Texas, 1716-1885	14
2.3	Regionalizations of South Texas	21
3.1	Colonial administrative boundaries of Northeast New Spain and South Texas	26
3.2	Tamaulipas boundary along the Nueces River	32
3.3	Colonial settlement of Northeast New Spain and South Texas, with founding dates	34
3.4	Towns founded by Mexicans and Mexican Americans, 1824-1880	38
3.5	Sheep and goats versus cattle in South Texas, 1882	40

- 3.6 Sources of migrants to South Texas counties, 1865-1885 42
- 4.1 Texas Mexican rimland 44
- 4.2 Texas Mexicans, 1910 47
- 4.3 Texas Mexican workers, Cotulla, Texas, around 1907 48
- 4.4 Farm and ranch counties in South Texas, 1910 49
- 4.5 Mexico-born birth parent populations in South Texas, 1930 51
- 4.6 Texas Mexicans, 1930 53
- 4.7 Texas Mexicans, 1950 55
- 4.8 Mexico-born populations in South Texas, 1950 56
- 4.9 Texas Mexicans, 1990 60
- 4.10 Mexico-born populations in South Texas, 1990 61
- 5.1 Hidalgo County ranchos 65
- 5.2 Rancho lands in South Texas 68
- 5.3 South Texas towns with traditional plazas 69
- 5.4 Plaza San Juan, Eagle Pass, Texas, around 1920 72
- 5.5 Plaza positions and types in South Texas towns 75
- 5.6 Kiosco and plaza in Old Zapata 79
- 5.7 Kiosco on the mall plaza and Starr County Courthouse, Rio Grande City, Texas, 1948 80
- 5.8 Dual towns in Weslaco, Hidalgo County, 1965 84
- 5.9 Laredo's barrios 88
- 5.10 Jacal dwellings 90
- 6.1 Texas Mexican small towns outside metropolitan areas, 1990 96
- 6.2 San Ygnacio and towns in the Falcon Lake area 97
- 6.3 San Ygnacio townscape 98
- 6.4 Plaza Blas María Uribe around 1950 102
- 6.5 Plaza Blas María Uribe land use 102
- 6.6 Stone house in San Ygnacio 103
- 6.7 Proceso Martínez house, San Ygnacio 104
- 6.8 Martínez family line 106
- 6.9 Good Friday procession in San Ygnacio 109
- 6.10 San Diego and vicinity 110
- 6.11 Grave markers in San Diego cemetery showing birthplace as Mier, Tamaulipas 112
- 6.12 San Diego townscape 113
- 6.13 Main plaza (Padre Pedro Park), San Diego, 1876 115
- 6.14 Padre Pedro Park (Main Plaza) land use 116
- 6.15 San Diego townscape, 1885 116
- 6.16 San Diego youth at St. Francis de Pabla Church 120

- 6.17. Cotulla townscape 122
- 6.18 Plaza Florita land use 124
- 6.19 Housescapes in Cotulla's barrio 125
- 7.1 Downtown San Antonio 133
- 7.2 Acosta Music Company in downtown San Antonio around 1930 139
- 7.3 The Urrutia farmacia or pharmacy 140
- 7.4 Teatro Nacional was San Antonio's premier Mexican theater 140
- 7.5 Jacales in the West Side barrios of San Antonio, early twentieth century 142
- 7.6 Laredito in 1888 and the expanded West Side in 1896 143
- 7.7 West Side Mexican dwellings labeled on San Antonio fire insurance maps, 1904 144
- 7.8 Housing on San Antonio's West Side 146
- 7.9 Plaza Guadalupe and La Parroquia de Nuestra Señora de Guadalupe 148
- 7.10 Laredo, the Gateway to Mexico 153
- 7.11 International Bridge connecting Laredo to Nuevo Laredo, 1930 154
- 7.12 Laredo became the premier import destination for Mexican curio crafts 155
- 7.13 Mexico-bound tourists along the Texas border, 1952-1962 156
- 8.1 Gebhardt's in San Antonio 166
- 8.2 Barbacoa, a Mexican South Texas weekend eating tradition 168
- 8.3 Backyard production of barbacoa has declined because of sanitation laws and insurance regulations 170
- 8.4 Flour tortilla tacos 171
- 8.5 The Taco-Burrito and Taco-Barbecue lines 175
- 8.6 Major pilgrimage sites that attract South Texas Mexicans 178
- 8.7 The Don Pedrito Jaramillo shrine near Falfurrias 179
- 8.8 La Virgen de San Juan del Valle 182
- 8.9 South Texas towns celebrate Mexican festivals more than towns in any other region of the state 183
- 8.10 Charro Days, first organized in Brownsville in 1938 184
- 8.11 Birthplaces of Tejano conjunto musicians 187
- 8.12 Conjunto master Valero Longoria in San Antonio, 1997 188
- 9.1 Counties in the borderland where Spanish is the primary language spoken at home 199
- 9.2 Historic sites and designations of the Lower Rio Grande heritage corridor 200