

Acknowledgments

WE WOULD LIKE to acknowledge several people who have assisted us in bringing this project to fruition; if we inadvertently have left anyone out, we apologize.

We would like to thank Theresa May, editor-in-chief at the University of Texas Press, for readily supporting our project. We also would like to express our gratitude to two reviewers for their excellent comments and suggestions, although we did not always heed their advice. In addition, we are thankful to Sandra Coliver and Charles Munnell for taking time to read and comment on the chapters.

Our special thanks to Gabriela Torres for helping us with the cover, and to Mary Fran Draisker, from the Publication Assistance Center at Arizona State University, for once again doing a first-rate job in preparing the different versions of this manuscript. We would also like to thank the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Houston for generous assistance and to thank Mary Duncan and Lonnie Anderson in the Department of Sociology.

Finally, we would like to thank our friends and colleagues at Arizona State University, at the University of Houston, and in other environments, who supported the idea for this book over the years that it took to become a reality.
