

LIST OF TABLES

TABLE I.I. Colombia compared to other major Latin American countries	5
TABLE 3.I. Population distribution in seven large Latin American countries	32
TABLE 3.2. Rural population density in seven large Latin American countries	32
TABLE 3.3. Value added in three sectors of the economy and gross capital formation in seven large Latin American countries	34
TABLE 3.4. Inflation in consumer prices in seven large Latin American countries (annual % change)	35
TABLE 3.5. Labor-force participation rate in seven large Latin American countries	35
TABLE 3.6. Unemployment in seven large Latin American countries (% of total labor force)	36
TABLE 3.7. Foreign direct investment in seven large Latin American countries	36
TABLE 3.8. Life expectancy at birth in seven large Latin American countries (years)	37
TABLE 3.9. Improved sanitation facilities in seven large Latin American countries (% of population with access)	37
TABLE 3.IO. Health expenditures in seven large Latin American countries (% of GDP)	38
TABLE 3.II. Persistence to fifth grade in seven large Latin American countries (% of cohort)	39

TABLE 4.I. FARC expansion and guerrilla conferences	56
TABLE 6.I. Zero-inflated negative binomial regression of human rights violations committed by FARC, 1993–1998	92
TABLE 6.2. Zero-inflated negative binomial regression of human rights violations committed by FARC, 1999–2001	93
TABLE 6.3. Models of human rights violations committed by leftist guerrillas, 1993–2001	94
TABLE 6.4. Summary of factors increasing the probability of experiencing violence in departments without prior guerrilla violence, 1993–2001 (logit model)	96
TABLE 6.5. Summary of significant factors explaining the intensity of violence in departments already experiencing guerrilla violence, 1993–2002 (negative binomial model)	97
TABLE 6.6. Zero-inflated negative binomial regression of human rights violations committed by paramilitary forces, 1993–2001	99
TABLE 6.7. Summary of factors increasing the probability of experiencing paramilitary violence in previously peaceful departments, 1993–1998 (logit model)	100
TABLE 6.8. Summary of significant factors explaining the intensity of violence in departments already experiencing violence, 1993–2002 (negative binomial model)	101
TABLE 7.I. Economic performance, violence trends, and coca cultivation, 1990–2004	104
TABLE 7.2. Pairwise correlations of coffee and coca, 1991–2001	118
TABLE 7.3. Costs of violence, 1991–1998	122
TABLE 7.4. Private GDP, 1990–2001	129
TABLE 8.I. U.S. aid to Colombia (millions of dollars)	144